According to Harry Damerel, chairman of the California Orange and Grapefruit Stabilization committee, the greatest nationwide sales drive in the history of the industry has been announced. It is noticeable that this drive will "take place this winter," which won't do the Valencia grower much good. By that time he will have such a headache he won't be interested in drives or economic anesthetics or alibis or what have you.

In spite of the depressed prices for oranges, the underlying value is recognized. Purchase of 14 sales drive in the history of the industry has been announced. By that time he will have such a headache he won't be interested in drives or economic anesthetics or alibis or what have you.

Display windows are beginning to look spooky, and it is easily frightened the grandchildren may not get any Halloween supplies.

George King says "You Can't Take It With You," and along comes Eddie Sudgen and proves that it can be done. Eddie's moves over to another location.

Ralph Macbeth comes over from Anaheim to tell us that a part of the Halloween celebration in that city—an annual event by the way—will be a horse show. Ralph is an enthusiastic equestrian, member of the Orange County Riding club, and a lover of fine saddle horses. If I had a horse I would trade it for a kingdom, just to reverse matters.

And then there was the fellow who held an Irish sweepstakes ticket who was quite winning. He said he came near winning. He got as close as Los Angeles.

Ray Humphrey, Henry Gerkin and Jim Anderson proposes to form a syndicate to handle $30 a week man and egg checks. Of course the matter may not materialize. So far it hasn't gone beyond the conversation stage. The triumvirate can back out any time, and as easily back in again. Anyway, they can't do anything until after November 8—maybe not then. I disposed of my rights for a cup of coffee.

It seems like most of Bene's country has been checked out.

There must be something to those geophysical tests. Oil companies do not move into sections which the machine condemns; or at least gets a back eye.

And so if Dudley Morrison and Ray Lambert and Ernie Sawyer think they can run my ranch better than I am, let 'em move in, but they better have some money before taking it over. It's the most obstinate piece of land I ever had. It won't work until it is fed, ever so often it wants a drink, and, oh, well, maybe they are the right fellows, after all.

Proceeding on the theory that if at first you don't succeed, many people keep buying sweepstakes tickets.

That fire department investigation in Los Angeles has turned out to be hot stuff.

McKelvey Likely To Call Every Juror to Court

Developments came quickly again today in the "Fools Rush In" investigation, which resulted Monday night in arrest of former Deputy Sheriff C. F. McKelvey and two others on criminal conspiracy charges. New occurrences included:

1. Appearance of Chief Criminal Deputy Sheriff Merle Dean, fellow-officer of McKelvey's before the latter was suspended, before the specially-called grand jury.

2. Reports that McKelvey intends to subpoena every member of the grand jury on his behalf for preliminary hearing of the conspiracy charges Saturday.

3. Release on $2000 property bond of J. Malcolm Green, 29-year-old editor of a political tabloid weekly.

4. Questioning again by the grand jury of Charles Ott, 60, retired railroad man arrested Monday night with Green and McKelvey.

HEARING SET
McKelvey obtained two original subpoenas and 24 copies in justice court yesterday after he had been arraigned on the conspiracy charge. He is said to have indicated he would subpoena all 19 members of the grand jury on his behalf.

Preliminary hearing for the trio is set for 10 a. m. Saturday. Indications were the hearing will be barely begun by time for week-end recess at noon, and that the three new defendants will appear again Monday in company with Printers Burt Harwick and Robert Elliott and Distributor Eddie Taylor, who have hearings set for that date.

SURPRISE MOVE
The three new defendants were arrested on orders of Dist. Atty. W. F. McMane in a surprise move Monday night after Green had been questioned for some time by officers. McKelvey posted $1000 cash bond almost immediately; and Green posted a $2000 property bond last night. Ott still was in jail this morning.

Dean, who had not previously been questioned by the grand jury, remained with the inquisitors about an hour. Before he appeared Ott was brought from his county jail cell to appear for the second time before the jury, and then returned to jail again.

LONDON. (AP)—The wedding plans of the scheduled marriage of Anton Walbrook, 36, a Viennese film actor, who played the part of the Prince Consort in the new Victorian extravaganza, "Sixty Glorious Years," and Maude Courtney, who is a minor.

Miss Courtney is one of Producer C. I. C. O. "young ladies," which means she belongs to the upper crust of British chorus girls.

"In the present state of European turmoil I dare not think of my daughter becoming an alien, being married to a man without a country and a subject of Herr Hitler," said the mother, Mrs. Barbara Randall-Carlton, a former actress. "Maude's family is descended from the Plantagenets."

Farmers' Ass'n. To Face Probers

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Activities of the Associated Farmers of California appeared due for scrutiny today by the LaFollette senate committee investigating civil liberties in California.

The committee subpoenaed files and records of the association, including financial receipts. The association pledged its "fullest cooperation" as a hearing date was set for Nov. 10.

Arrested on Drunk Driving Charge

Viola Hassett, 30, of 407 East First street, was arrested by Santa Ana police yesterday on a charge of drunk driving and nit-run driving.

Police said she drove on after her car struck a man owned by Roy Yorum, parked in front of 1036 East First street.

Veterans Assail Publicity

American Legion county council members, following a long, stormy session last night in Tustin, today announced adoption of a resolution "censuring and reprimanding" those responsible for publicity on charges against the juvenile court and detention home. The council said its action had been "misconstrued."

Meanwhile, the county grand jury continued with its probe of conditions in the court and detention home, calling as witnesses Juvenile Court Judge H. G. Ames and James L. Davis, his Nov. 8 opponent.

AMES, DAVIS CALLED
Judge Ames was closeted with the grand jury an hour yesterday afternoon; and Davis, who has made charges over the radio against conduct of the court and home, was questioned for more than an hour this morning.

Russell S. Norton of Balboa Island, who made the charges before the Legion council two weeks ago, was called yesterday morning and again this morning by the inquisitors.

LEADERS IRATE
Legion council leaders were irate when newspapers learned and published the fact that Norton had made charges of "diabolical" conduct of the court and home, and that the council had voted that the charges be investigated.

Last night's stormy session, it was reported, involved considerable discussion of who was responsible for releasing the information by newspapers about the Legion's motion for investigation of the charges. No names were named in the resolution issued today, however.

ACTION MISCONSTRUED
"Be it resolved," the resolution read in part, "that such information as published be declared as misconstruing the purpose and intent of the Orange County Council of the American Legion. To-wit: That the motion as stated by the chair and voted on by the membership was to appoint a committee to investigate the charges of Comrade Norton and that the result of such investigation be not presented until after the Nov. 8 election; and further, 'Whereas, the publicity given in the newspapers of Orange county to the effect that the entire charges made by Comrade Norton were erroneous and misleading. Therefore be it resolved, that those responsible for preparing and promulgating such injurious publicity without justification and due authenticity be hereby censured and reprimanded.'"

FANNING, PEABODY SIGN
The resolution was signed by Com. Gaylord Fanning of Laguna Beach and Adm. H. K. Peabody. The grand jury adjourned yesterday afternoon without hearing two witnesses who were prepared to testify. They were Mrs. Eva Copeland of Fullerton, former juvenile home employee, and J. A. Cranston, former chairman of the probation committee, who resigned last year after differences with Judge Ames.

Song Hit Author Dies, Forgotten

CHICAGO. (AP)—When Roger Graham wrote "I Ain't Got Nobody" 20 years ago he was riding the crest of national popularity. Yesterday he died, forgotten almost alone. Cook county hospital, and his body was taken to the county morgue. He was 53 years old, author of 200 songs.

'Bad Peace Is No Peace,' Warns Lloyd George, Predicting New War

LONDON. (AP)—David Lloyd George broke his silence on the peace of Munich today to warn Prime Minister Chamberlain that it would end in a "war without friends" for Great Britain.

The white-haired wartime premier delivered his grim prediction while the present prime minister and his cabinet met for two and one-half hours to review vital matters ranging from defense of home shores to the colonial cost of really satisfying Adolf Hitler.

In his first speech since the Munich pact saved Europe's peace at the price of Czechoslovakia's dismemberment Lloyd George pronounced this judgment:

"I will tell you what we shall find, and I am speaking now as one who has taken a great part in the affairs of this country at the most critical moment in the whole of its history: We shall have forfeited honor, we shall have lost the respect of

Armistice Day Proclaimed By President

WASHINGTON. (AP)—President Roosevelt, proclaiming Nov. 11 Armistice Day, said today "peace can be obtained only by non-aggression."

The President's proclamation, issued in conformity with various congressional resolutions, said: "It is especially fitting at this time of world unrest that Nov. 11, 1938, the twentieth anniversary of the armistice, should be observed with suitable ceremonies manifesting our belief that peace can be attained only by non-aggression, and can be made enduring only by respect for the rights of others and good will among the nations of the world."

The proclamation directed flags be displayed on all government buildings Armistice Day.

In addition, the President said invited observation of the day "by the people of the United States with appropriate ceremonies in schools, churches, and other suitable places."

Although representatives of both the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars have invited the President to speak on Armistice day, White House attaches said an address was unlikely.

CIVIL SERVICE STORY IS TOLD

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—A major break in District Attorney Burt Harwick's probe of "job buying" charges against the city civil service department loomed today as aftermath of a secret statement by Glenn G. Gravatt, suspended department manager.

Placed under guard of a detective "for his own protection," Gravatt was questioned for hours in a downtown hotel suite last night, following his appearance in municipal court to plead innocent to four counts of corruptly grading examination papers.

Fitts and City Attorney Ray L. Chesbro indicated Gravatt, speaking at such length that three stenographers worked alternately to record his story, had reviewed the administration of the civil service department for six years, during which thousands of municipal employees, including policemen and firemen, were hired or promoted.

Gravatt's statement was described by city hall circles as a sensational preface to a county grand jury inquiry starting tomorrow. More than 100 persons, including John R. Spring, discharged secretary of the fire commission, and battalion fire chief Guy Kykendall, have been subpoenaed.

Officers Go North To Bring Back Holdup Suspect

Assistant Chief Harry Fink of the Santa Ana police department and Deputy Sheriff Tom Murphree were en route today to Fort Lewis, Washington, to take into custody the third member of a group of youthful hold-up suspects.

They will return here with Rex Whittemore, recently enrolled with the Ninth Field Artillery at Fort Lewis, who is accused of taking part in a series of 14 armed robberies during the past few months in Orange, Los Angeles and San Bernardino counties.

Former Santa Anan Dies in San Diego

Herbert M. Samis of San Diego, formerly a Santa Ana bank employee, died last week at his San Diego home according to word received by friends here.

Samis, who left Santa Ana about 10 years ago, was a past master of Masonic Lodge No. 241 of Santa Ana and was assistant cashier at what is now the Security First National bank.

He leaves a wife, son and daughter, all of San Diego.

China to Keep on Fighting

SHANGHAI. (AP)—Japanese and foreign dispatches tonight reported that the Japanese army and navy had completed occupation of Hankow and its sister Wuhan cities, Wuchang and Hanyang.

Twenty-six Japanese warships steamed up the broad Yangtze river to a position off Hankow's Japanese concession, the dispatches said, and army units totalling several thousand men marched into the former provisional capital from the northeast.

TAKE OVER CONTROL
Shortly thereafter a Japanese infantry force of about 2000 moved into the International Area along the Yangtze waterfront and took over control from the foreign authorities who had organized an emergency regime following the abandonment of the city.

Earlier reports had indicated Chinese were retaining some positions in Yangyang. But available information tonight indicated the Japanese had gained the huge mid-China metropolitan area with almost no fighting at the end except the street fighting at Hankow.

The occupation was culmination of a great converging movement launched early in the summer, with a strong naval force driving up the Yangtze in cooperation with a army columns advancing along both banks of the river and thrusting overland from the northeast and southwest.

HALF OF CHINA HELD
After 477 days of severe fighting, the Japanese have penetrated and occupied major communication lines, cities and towns through 13 provinces, comprising about 375,000 square miles and 200,000,000 inhabitants, nearly half the population of China.

Dispatches reaching Shanghai from Chungking quoted high Chinese officials who reached that city last night as saying emphatically that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek nevertheless was determined to conduct prolonged resistance against the Japanese without any intention of making for peace.

CHINESE CONFIDENT
The fugitive leaders were said to have asserted that surrender now would cause a loss of everything while continuous resistance would mean Japan ultimately would be unable to carry the financial burden of invasion.

There also was an army of 1,000,000 Chinese was still in the field with 300,000 more undergoing training.

TUMBLE FROM AUTO FATAL

Victim of an unusual automobile accident on North Flower street early Monday, Mrs. Maria Sanchez, 45-year-old Orange woman, died at the Orange county hospital today.

Mrs. Sanchez was fatally injured when she fell from a moving automobile driven by her son, Esequiel Sanchez, 24, of Upland. The accident occurred at the intersection of North Flower street and Palmyra avenue when the door of the car suddenly flew open, authorities said.

Mrs. Sanchez had resided on North Pine street in Orange. She is survived by a husband and three sons. Burial will be in Upland.

The body is at the Shannon funeral chapel in Orange.

Rain Halts War

HENDAYE, France (at the Spanish Frontier). (AP)—Heavy rainstorms halted general offensives the government and insurgent high commands had planned to start today.

"We all shared in a sort of thrill of relief which passed through the country when we realized we were to be spared at any rate for some time the horror and equal of war."

"Alas! That is only one of a series of episodes of the same kind that have occurred, especially during the last seven years, where we have subordinated honor to the quiet life."

"We have lost honor but we have not gained tranquility."

Adolf Hitler, he said, "wanted to get rid of a democratic and free country (Czechoslovakia), contiguous to his own, where principles of liberty, equality and justice were freely administered to Sudeten Germans and Czechs alike."

"It was a plague spot as far as he was concerned and he was afraid that sooner or later the germ would cross the frontier . . ."

State Candidates Declared Linked To Communists

$200,000 Missing

NEW YORK. (AP)—A $200,000 ruby-set diamond ring, part of Edward N. Townsend's missing $200,000 collection of jewelry, was found in a pawn shop today. The missing Townsend automobile was recovered in a parking lot.

Jack Gorta, pawnshop owner, said the ring was pledged for $75 in the name of George Fleming, the same name as that of the missing Townsend chauffeur. Gorta said the man who pledged the ring showed him a court order ordering him to pay his wife $75 a month and gave it as the reason for pawning the jewelry.

Police sent out an eight-state alarm for Fleming.

NEW YORK. (AP)—Police of eight states today sought a wealthy investment and insurance broker's chauffeur whose employment reported him and $200,000 in jewelry missing at the same time that two other jewelry investigations were under way.

Edward N. Townsend, jr., the broker, told police last night that the chauffeur, Gorge Fleming, 38, drove Mrs. Townsend to Manhattan from their home at Syosset, L. I., and had then been directed to take the jewels and luggage to the Hotel St. Regis.

Townsend said he learned later the chauffeur had not arrived at the hotel. He said he did not believe the chauffeur had stolen the jewels, although the car also was missing.

In other jewelry investigations, police questioned Alfred H. Gould, 46, arrested in France and accused of obtaining $15,000 in gems from New York jewelers by making part payment and then disappearing, and sought evidence to link Sadie Tobias, 37, former dancer, with a series of jewelry thefts aggregating $96,000.

She was charged specifically with stealing $4000 worth of jewelry on Aug. 11 from the home of I. O. Gulden, Rumson, N. J., banker. Police Capt. Henry Kruse said she was wanted in Monmouth, N. J., and had worked in Los Angeles homes which were robbed.

STORK CLUB LABOR WINS

NEW YORK. (AP)—The state labor board today ordered reinstatement and back pay for nine discharged waiters of the Stork club, prominent night spot, with the observation that union organizing activities and not pining finger nails, drinking the customer's cocktails and other offenses alleged by the management had caused the dismissals.

The men received $25 a month, but the board considered as part of their pay the $50 a week they averaged in tips.

About the charge some waiters kept "filthy tables," the board said that was connected with a posted announcement:

"Attention to waiters: 'When you are serving a house party that does not pay, don't ever bother about changing the linen on the table or putting clean napkins or anything else on the table; in other words, save all that you possibly can for the house when you are serving parties that do not pay—'cause they cannot kick if they do not pay.'"

CLUB TOLD OF TRIP ABROAD

Personal experiences of a European tour this summer were related to members of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club today by Thomas H. Glenn, head of Santa Ana Junior college English department.

Glenn told of a trip through France, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Germany, Holland and England.

Program chairman was Herb Allman, and President Maurice Enderle presided. Assist. Coach Johnny Ward of Santa Ana Junior college made an appeal to the club for employment of football men at junior college on any part time jobs available.

C.I.O. Wants 'Vigilantes' Investigated

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Donald Henderson, president of CIO's United Cannery and Agriculture Workers union, demanded today the Dies committee studying un-American activities in investigate what he called the "Vigilant" activities of the Associated Farmers of California.

Henderson's demand followed testimony by Harper Knowles, former secretary of the Associated Farmers, on CIO activities on the west coast. Knowles said he was now chairman of the Radical Research committee of the California Department of the American Legion.

Henderson said in his statement Knowles "recently resigned as secretary of the Associated Farmers of California to hide his connection with the labor-hating, Vigilante organization."

"It is an organization," Henderson said, "financed by the Pacific Gas and Electric company, the Southern Pacific railroad, and the Santa Fe railroad, according to the California railroad commission report for 1935 and 1936, whose sole purpose is to smash all bona fide labor organization."

Fire Is Prevented By Local Youths

Two 10-year-old boys who rushed head-long into the Santa Ana police station yesterday prevented what might have developed into a serious downtown fire, officers said today.

The boys, James Virgo of 414 1/2 West Fourth street, and Larry Stock, 315 West Second street, reported a fire in the awning of the Chandler Furniture company at Main and Third streets.

Officers extinguished the fire with their hands after it had burned a small hole in the awning.

Subpoenas Issued For Joe Shaw

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Subpoenas were issued today for Joe Shaw, brother of former Mayor Frank L. Shaw, and six other persons for questioning in District Attorney Burt Fitts' probe of job buying charges against the city civil service department.

The subpoenas were returnable tomorrow when the grand jury will start delving into evidence of alleged graft and corruption, gathered by investigators after the probe was started by statements of Glenn G. Gravatt, suspended department worker.

JEWISH STORES CLOSED

VIENNA. (AP)—All Jewish jewelry stores in Vienna were closed by authorities today for an un-stated reason.

DARCY HELD FUGITIVE

The witness said two perjury indictments were standing against Darcy in San Francisco.

"While a fugitive from justice," he added, "he is today the secretary of the Communist party in the state of Minnesota enjoying the protection of the farmer-labor party governor, Benson."

Knowles said his idea in calling the committee's attention to the three highest offices of the state of California was "to indicate and prove the tremendous inroads which the Communist party

Notice

The following Resolution was passed at a meeting of the Orange County Council of the American Legion held at Tustin on October 25th 1938.

Whereas the Orange County Council of the American Legion has received inaccurate and injurious publicity in the newspapers thruout Orange County relative to its action taken at the regular meeting in Santa Ana on October 14th 1938;

Therefore be it resolved that such information as published be declared as misconstruing the purpose and intent of the Orange County Council of the American Legion, To wit: That the motion as stated by the Chair and voted upon by the membership was "To appoint a committee to investigate the charges of Comrade Norton and that the result of such investigation be not presented until after the November 8th Election" and further;

Whereas: The publicity given in the newspapers of Orange County to the effect that the entire charges made by Comrade Norton were embodied in the motion were erroneous and misleading.

Therefore: Be it Resolved that those responsible for preparing and promulgating such injurious publicity without justification and due authenticity be hereby censured and reprimanded.

RESCUE SHIPS TURNED BACK AFTER S. O. S.

NEW YORK. (AP)—Fire aboard ship in perilous, gale-whipped seas of the north Atlantic remained a nightmarish memory today to 591 passengers and 392 crew members on the Deutschland as the German liner headed for New York with her insides charred by flames.

An electrifying "SOS" flashed through the air early last night when fire broke out in the ship's No. 2 hold, after an explosion of unexplained nature.

"Assistance necessary urgently," crackled over the radio waves then.

"Fire in room (hold) No. 2."

A "quiet period" was quickly ordered on the seas and observed by ships far and near.

BATTLE IS WON

Ships' wirelesses closed transmitters and bent their ears toward the position 200 miles south-east of Cape Race, Newfoundland, where the flame-periled Deutschland was rolling.

"Assistance necessary urgently," drummed into the ears of radio operators. Then—

After a winning two-hour battle with the flames, Capt. Karl Steincke, master of the ill-starred veteran of four other mishaps at sea, radioed to New York office of the Associated Press, at 8:29 p. m. (EST):

"Fire under control!"

GALE ADDS TO PERIL

The middle-sized 15-year-old ship, pride of the post-war German republic when it was launched with great fanfare by the then President Ebert, left Hamburg last Thursday and was due in New York next Friday.

The southeasterly gale and rain sweeping the Newfoundland banks increased the Deutschlands' peril while the fire was raging in the hold.

Fear was felt that the rescuers would be unable to reach the liner in time to take off passengers or that the gale would whip the flames beyond control should they leap out of the hold.

RADIO NOT DISABLED

Passengers were at dinner, dancing or in the cocktail lounges when the dread cry of "fire!" swept the ship. First efforts to confine the blaze apparently were futile but the flames did not disable the radio.

Finally quelling the immediate danger, Captain Steincke and his radio operator set to the task of turning back all but three of the ships racing to help.

Some had been deemed too far away to help in any case, but several large and small craft kept bearing toward the ship long after it was out of immediate danger.

PILOTS CHANGE WITH AIRPLANE STILL IN AIR

LANCASTER. (AP)—In two daring maneuvers, pilots were changed today in a light airplane attempting to establish a new non-stop endurance record of more than 136 hours in the air.

Thomas H. Smith of Clarksburg, W. Va., who took the plane up at 1:25 p. m. last Sunday, became ill from fumes this morning, and his co-pilot, Clyde Schlieper of Long Beach, Cal., although ill himself, dropped a message to the ground crew, asking relief.

A parachute was attached to a rope dangling from the plane, and Schlieper hauled it in. At an altitude of 2000 feet, the groggy Smith went over the side of the plane and landed safely.

Harley Long, Long Beach test pilot, later relieved Smith. He leaped from a truck, from which refueling operations are conducted, to a rope ladder Schlieper had lowered.

National Aeronautical association officials said the change of pilots would not prevent recognition of a new endurance record.

Pasadena, Compton Students Engage In Painting Race

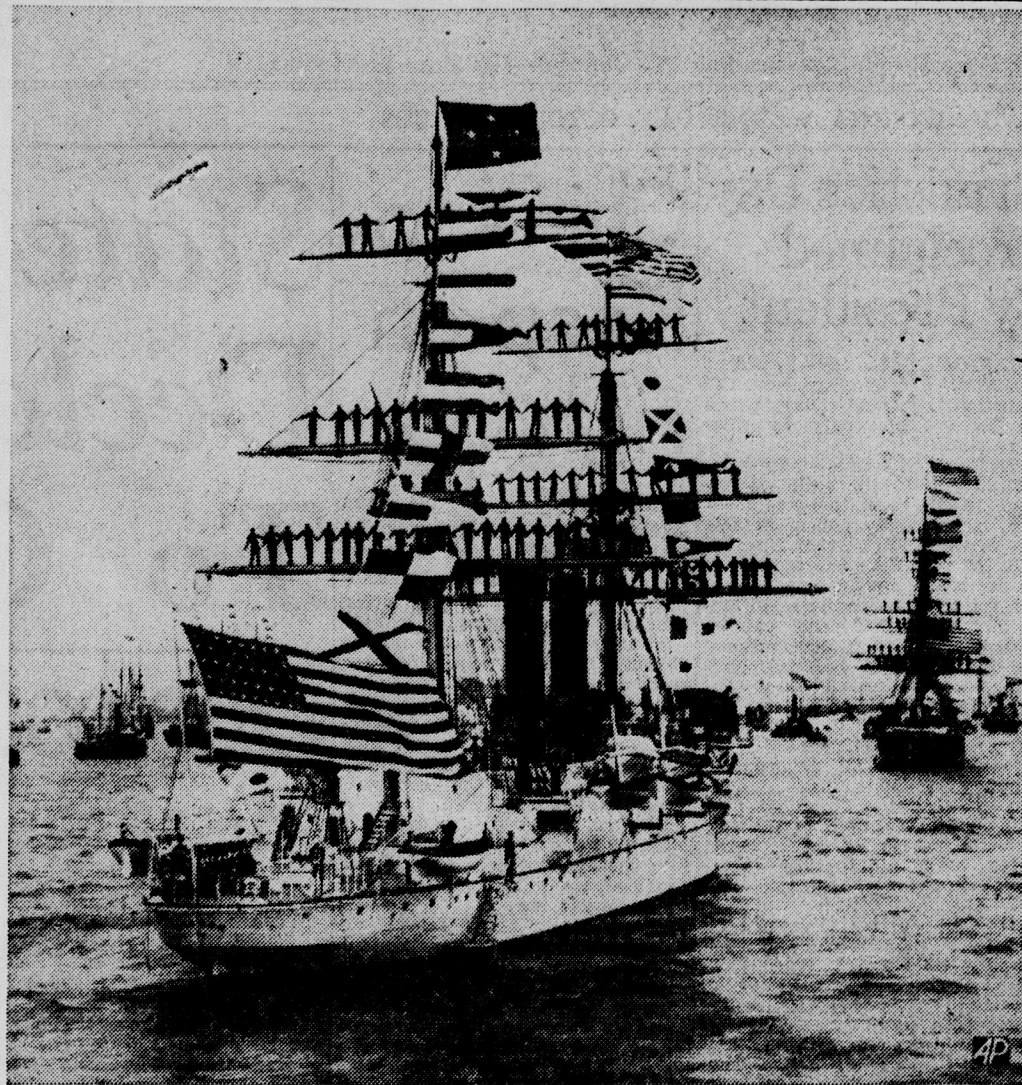

PASADENA. (AP)—The letters "C J C" in blue paint decorated the women's gymnasium of Pasadena Junior college today, but more than 100 Compton Junior college partisans admitted they were no match for half again as many Pasadena J. C. students and five carloads of police.

In retaliation for a visit to the Compton campus Monday night, when Pasadena J. C. rooters smeared buildings with red labels, the Compton students invaded the Pasadena campus last night with many buckets of blue paint.

They retreated before the Pasadena defenders with most of it unused.

Mayor Bowron, Who Expects Unpopularity, Asks Dinners To Surrender Police Badges

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Former Superior Judge Fletcher Bowron, "reform" mayor of Los Angeles chosen in a recall election last month, expects to be one of the city's most unpopular chief executives.

"This banquet will live long in my memory because it will never happen again," the mayor told some 1200 civic leaders and citizens who tendered him a dinner last night. "Many of you will not care hereafter to pay me homage because I intend to be an unpopular mayor of the city of Los Angeles."

"I expect to be unpopular because I intend to do my duty, and duty and popularity are not compatible. I know that I cannot please everyone, and I am not going to attempt to."

NEW WITNESS GOES ON STAND IN SPY TRIAL

NEW YORK. (AP)—Miss Senta de Wanger, a government witness, offered testimony in federal court today by which the prosecution sought to link Otto Herman Voss, airplane mechanic with a Nazi German spy ring in this country.

A tall, comely young woman, Miss de Wanger said Voss frequently visited her home at Hempstead, Long Island, during the time William Lonkowski, one of the fugitive defendants, and his wife lodged with her. Miss de Senta kept a liquor shop.

Voss, one of three persons on trial charged with espionage, had not figured in any previous testimony.

Lonkowski, seized by a customs guard in September, 1935, was found carrying photographic negatives and technical descriptions relating to airplanes.

Miss De Wanger, 31, a native of Germany, said she was naturalized in 1935 and became acquainted with Lonkowski when he started to come to her shop.

Dr. Ignatz Griebel, another of the absent defendants, who fled to Germany, also visited Lonkowski, she said. One night, she testified, she had dinner with Voss and his wife, Lonkowski and his wife, and Karl Schlueter, alleged payoff man for the Nazi spy ring, who likewise escaped to Germany.

Lonkowski, a German army aviator during the World war, told her he was a piano tuner, she said. He had a workroom the door of which was always closed.

Voss brought packages when he called on Lonkowski, she testified.

GIRL FALLS IN BEAR'S PIT

CLEVELAND. (AP)—A 21-year-old art student, Miss Julia Zemick, fell into a polar bear's pit at Brookside zoo today and suffered a severe mauling, threatening her life, before keepers clubbed off the bear and pulled her from the pit.

Miss Zemick, a WPA art project worker, had been sketching at the top of the bear's enclosure. At City hospital her condition was described as "poor." She fell 25 feet, and apparently was knocked unconscious as she hit the bottom of the pit.

Debt Not Considered, Says Paris Envoy

BOSTON. (AP)—Count Rene De Saint-Quentin, French ambassador to the United States, today asserted "France has not even thought about negotiation with the United States on settlement of the war debt."

Interviewed on his arrival in Boston for what he termed a "social visit," the ambassador made the statement in answer to rumors France was considering negotiations.

Fem friend says this is sister from Los Angeles, which didn't make any difference to me. Later I meet sister's husband, and so far the identity of the parties has not been revealed or will it be. I like the husband because he brought sister down to see sister, and that's one of the nicest things husband's can do. Some how or other I haven't much use for the husband who told his wife he would do everything he could to make her life happy before he married her, and then employed the minimum of effort to deliver the promise after he said "I do."

Group of men brought down from the city a machine called an acoustograph which records what you have to say but it doesn't do your thinking for you. There are also ediphoes or telephones into which we record our statements which we can't take back. However, the purpose of the demonstration was to indicate to those whom it may concern that recording and labor saving and reduction of expenses were virtues of the new machine which you may be able to buy if you have something around $300 or approximately so. You know occasionally when I am not sleeping I'm thinking, strange as it may seem, and I have often kidded myself that some of those midnight meditations were worthy of record. So I say to myself, I'll remember them in the morning and when morning came they were like the Capistrano swallows—they flew away and I never find out where they went to. So what I need is a recording machine.

SOLONS LACK AUTHORITY FOR SHEPPARD QUIZ

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The senate campaign expenditures committee notified a group of California Republicans today it lacked authority to ascertain if Representative Sheppard (D., Calif.), violated the corrupt practices act in his campaign for re-election.

Committee attaches said they had wired M. B. Wellington, chairman of the California group, its request for an investigation should have been directed instead to the house campaign expenses committee.

WPA officials acknowledged, meantime, receipt of a complaint from the same group charging a San Bernardino county WPA executive with coercing relief clients in behalf of Sheppard. They added no action had been taken, but that the complaint probably would be referred to Lieutenant Colonel Donald H. Connolly, WPA's southern California administrator, for investigation.

SAN BERNARDINO. (AP)—Rep. Harry R. Sheppard said today he would welcome an immediate investigation of charges by the Republican committee of nine that civil service workers in the 19th congressional district are being forced to pay 10 per cent of their salaries into his campaign fund.

Sheppard, seeking re-election as a Democrat against Mayor C. T. Johnson of San Bernardino, Republican and Townsend party candidate, telegraphed Senator Morris Sheppard, chairman of the senate committee on campaign expenditures, that the Republican committee's action was "a false attack, utterly groundless."

7 IN U. S. HOLD TICKETS ON RACE WINNER

NEW YORK. (AP)—Ticket holders in the United States won $3,489,162.50 as a result of the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes in connection with the 100th running of the Cessarewitch race at Newmarket, England, today.

Seven tickets on Contrevent, winner of the race, were held in the United States and paid $150,000 each for a total of $1,050,000. Americans also held seven tickets on DuBonnet, second place winner, gaining $75,000 each for another $525,000, and four tickets on the third horse, Fet, winning $50,000 each for $200,000 more.

Five hundred and ninety-nine other Americans held tickets worth a total of $1,310,412.50.

Prizes already awarded to Americans included 25 residual awards of $530 each for $13,250 and 75 consolation awards of $500 each for $37,500. Total receipts of the sweepstakes, the 25th to be held, were approximately $12,232,405. Of this amount about $7,026,500 was allocated to prize winners.

Holders on tickets on Contrevent were listed as: "Kant Win," Bronx, New York City.
Mrs. V. Strauss, Jackson Heights, New York City.
"Lucky Dreamer," Greensboro, N. C.
Spritzels Mael, Bronx, New York City.
Elwood Horne, Cincinnati, Ohio.
"Aggie," 234 North Bonnie Brae, Los Angeles, Cal.
Fred S. Williams, Shoemakersville, Pa.
Holders of tickets on DuBonnet: "Never Win," Embury Place, Seabright, N. J.
Mary Hourican, care of Mrs. Smith, New York City.
Mary Racisz, Buffalo, N. Y.
M. A. Carter, Pittsburgh.
R. E. Spurlich, Chicago.

Rose Masterbone, Bristol, Conn.

Washington, (AP)—Treasury experts estimated today they would collect about $635,000 in income taxes on the $1,775,000 of major prizes won by Americans on the Cessarewitch sweepstakes race.

The exact amount of the taxes will depend on other income of prize winners, but assuming all the prize money is taxable at minimum rates, the treasury bill is as follows:

$65,000 from each of the seven who won $150,000 each on the first place Contravent.
$20,120 from each of the seven who won $75,000 each on the second place DuBonnet.
$9700 from each of the four who won $50,000 apiece on the third place Fet.

Cypress Protests Street Extension

County supervisors had decided to extend Gay street, in Cypress—but 20 Cypress residents didn't like the idea, and the matter was taken under advisement yesterday afternoon.

A petition signed by the 20 persons was presented to the county board, asking that instead of opening Gay street the board improve Denny street, which is 300 feet east.

California Candidates Get Red Tinge When Legionnaire Testifies Before Probers

He made into our body politic." He added: All three of these candidates, Olson, Patterson, and Downey, have gone on record to the effect that if they were in a position to do so, they would pardon (Tom) Mooney and the latter predicates his appeal to the electorate support of these candidates on this basis.

He described Mooney as a Communist and said it was "an unfortunate commentary upon our political body when we have three men seeking high offices who publicly announce that they will set at naught the decisions of our highest tribunals."

HANDELL OFFERED
The names of known Communists, he said, appeared on programs for several of the party's election rallies. He presented a handbill which he said sponsored the United labor party candidate for mayor, Redfern Mason, then a newspaper guild. Knowles said Mason now is a writer for a Communist publication. Speakers listed on the handbill, he said, were Communists.

Another witness, Joseph F. Hanon of San Francisco, told the committee that Harry Bridges, West Coast C. I. O. leader, said his presence in June, 1938, that he was "well protected in San Francisco" and had a "connection in Washington, so there is no fear of me being deported."

DIES TAKES ISSUE
The committee was rebuked by President Roosevelt yesterday for letting itself be used in an "unfair and un-American attempt to influence an election." Mr. Roosevelt referred to testimony critical of Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan.

The committee chairman said he would continue to do his "duty undeterred and unafraid."

Dies took direct issue with the chief executive, who accused the committee of making no effort to learn the truth of testimony that Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan had acted treacherously during a sit-down strike early last year.

"Under my conception of public duty," Dies said, "it would have been wrong to shield Governor Murphy simply because he was a Democrat and a strong friend of the President."

GOVERNOR INVOLVED
Murphy's name had come before the committee last Friday during an inquiry into the question of whether Communists had a hand in Michigan sit-down strikes.

John M. Barringer, former Republican city manager of Flint, Mich., testified the governor was guilty of "treasonable action in not giving us help when we should have had it" during a strike in the Fisher body plant.

Paul V. Godola, a Republican judge granted a writ for election of the strikers, said Murphy had prevented Sheriff Thomas Wolcott from carrying out the order.

FALSE CHARGE
Questioned about the testimony at present conference yesterday, Mr. Roosevelt said he preferred to write out a statement. In it, he spoke of "the absurdly false charges made by a catnip of disgruntled Republican office holders against a profoundly religious, able and law-abiding governor."

The committee allowed its witnesses to make "lurid charges" against Murphy. Mr. Roosevelt said, "without attempting to elicit from them facts as to their undeniable bias and without attempting to obtain from the governor or, for that matter, from any responsible motor manufacturer, their version of the events."

"Most fair-minded Americans," he added, "hope that the committee will abandon the practice of merely providing a forum to those who for political purposes, or otherwise, seek headlines which they could not otherwise obtain."

MURPHY REPLIES
After learning of the President's statement, Governor Murphy said last night in a campaign speech at Kalamazoo, Mich., that the committee testimony "was clearly a planned attempt to win an election."

"The reactionaries carefully built up this situation," he added, asserting the committee "has

4 RALLIES OF DEMOCRATS SCHEDULED

Four political rallies are scheduled for Orange county this week, according to J. Wayne Harrison, Democratic campaign chairman for the county.

Two rallies will be held tomorrow night in the northern end of the county and two more are scheduled for tomorrow, one in Orange and the other at Yorba Linda. Outstanding speakers, on behalf of the entire Democratic ticket for the Nov. 8 election, will appear at each rally.

Thursday night Democrats of the Fullerton-Placentia area will join with others from the northern part of the county for a rally to be held in the Fullerton High school auditorium. A similar meeting will be held in the grammar school at La Habra. Both meetings are scheduled to start at 7:30 o'clock.

The Orange meeting will be preceded by a 6:30 o'clock dinner. Peirson Hall, former United States attorney in Los Angeles, who withdrew from the United States senatorial campaign in favor of Sheridan Downey, will be one of the speakers at the program, which will start at 7:30 p. m. in American Legion hall.

Congressman Harry Sheppard will make the opening address and urge support of the entire Democratic ticket before leaving for Yorba Linda where he also is scheduled to speak.

Tomorrow night Pat Devlin, liberal Los Angeles speaker, will divide speaking honors with Sheppard at the rally to be held in the Fullerton high school auditorium. From Fullerton Sheppard will go to La Habra where he will speak.

Leo Martin, Jr., of Santa Ana, was fined $10 for speeding and failure to appear in court. For improper parking, Joseph E. Brennan, of 826 Lacy street, paid a $2 fine.

Fined $1 each for overtime parking were Earl S. Vinson, 419 Bush street, and Refugio Ramirez of Santa Ana. Failure to appear on a traffic charge cost A. M. Smith, 1416 North Broadway, a fine of $2.

George Sneed, 1519 East First street, was fined $2 for improper parking and failure to appear.

2 WIVES ASK ANNULMENTS

Annulments of their Santa Ana marriages were asked today by two wives, one assertedly under age when she married and the other claiming her husband had a wife living.

Mrs. Verna McCordian Livengood asked annulment of her marriage to Robert J. Livengood in a superior court suit claiming she was but 17 when she was married to him here last February. She asks custody of their infant son.

Mrs. Letha Brandt sued for annulment against Randolph A. Brandt, who she alleges had a wife living when they were married Oct. 8.

Petition Filed to Establish Birth

A superior court petition to establish the birth of an 8-year-old San Juan Capistrano girl was on file today, with her mother declaring vital statistics records do not show the child's birth.

The mother is Mrs. Helena M. de Altamir, who alleges her daughter, Celia, was born in San Dr. Grant whose present address Juan Capistrano, Aug. 16, 1930. She was attended, she said, by a lay midwife and who apparently failed to record the birth.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN MEET TOMORROW

Mrs. W. E. Evans, wife of a former congressman from Glendale, will speak here tomorrow night at a Republican rally.

She will speak on her observations while living in Washington, and her views on the need for restoring Republican control of congress.

Arrangements for the meeting have been in charge of Mrs. Frank Rosapav of Placentia, vice chairman of the Orange county Republican central committee.

"Many persons not registered as Republicans," id Mrs. Rosapav, "are questioning political trends. They will find Mrs. Evans refreshing and stimulating and I urge them to attend."

During the evening Mrs. Evans will be guest at a dinner at Danier's, attended by prominent Republican women. Her address at the high school auditorium, is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p. m.

with Arthur L. Brewer, prominent business man who will talk on behalf of the entire Democratic ticket.

Elso, who were 127 boys sent to the Preston Reform School at Ione from Orange County, when other counties of similar size and population sent so many less? Yes, during a five-year period, 127 boys were sent to Preston Reform School from Orange County, and during that same period of time, but 62 boys were sent there from the adjoining county of Riverside.

And that's not all. While Orange County was sending 127 boys to Preston Reform School, Merced county sent but 7 boys; Humboldt County 11; San Joaquin County 61; Santa Barbara County 31, and Ventura County 36. I know I have quoted these figures before, but I do it again because I want you to realize the terrible significance of the figures. O. H. Close, Superintendent of Preston Reform School, gave us the above figures and their correctness is conceded. These figures either mean that we parents here in Orange County raise worse children than they do anywhere else, or that boys are being sent to the reform school without sufficient investigation.

Again, when you examine the figures from Whittier Reform School you know that there is something wrong here in the methods now being employed to deal with boys who get into trouble as we have sent more than twice as many boys as other counties have sent, of equal population.

The records show that many of our boys are sent to a reform school, or kept for months in the detention home, for their first offense. We all know that reform schools are the training schools for crime, and that our boys of Orange County, when sentenced to one of our reform schools are heading towards criminal careers.

This procedure, which has and is now being employed, is in sharp contrast to modern methods of dealing with delinquent and dependent children. Kindness and understanding will work wonders in the heart of a boy or girl who feels that the world is against him or her. Just one good friend, be he juvenile judge or not, often would be the means of turning an embittered boy into an honest, happy person. That's why I say, that if I sit in judgment on boys and girls in trouble, I will do everything in my power to help them out of their trouble, before sending them away from their homes and into the darkness of a reform school.

If it is necessary to send boys and girls to our local detention home in Santa Ana, don't you think the institution should be a home, rather than a prison? I think so, and so did the legislators who wrote the juvenile court law of the state of California. For example, here is what Section 661 of the juvenile law says in regard to juvenile homes:

"The detention home should not be in or connected with any jail or prison, and shall not be deemed to be or treated as a penal institution. It shall be conducted in all respects as nearly like a home as possible."

But what is the situation at our detention home? Is it a home, or is it a prison? Well, when you consider the fact that there are 36 cells in the detention home, it looks more like a jail than it does a home. And those cells are not just there for decorations. They are used. Young boys and girls are placed in these cells, locked up, and left in solitary confinement. Can you imagine what kind of treatment does to a boy or girl in the formative period of their lives. I can, and I tell you it doesn't do them any good! The treatment received will never be forgotten. The law says that the detention home shall be conducted in all respects as nearly like a home as possible. May I ask you mothers and fathers how many of you have a cell in your home in which to keep your children?

Last Friday night I told you about the parent who took the superintendent of schools, the principal of the school his boy attended, and his preacher into the Orange County Juvenile Court so that these men could testify on behalf of the boy who was sent to these men were permitted to testify for the boy, who was sent to Preston Reform School after being tricked into a confession.

Tonight I have before me another affidavit which says: "This is to certify that . . . I am the mother of a boy now confined in the State School of Industry, at Preston, and he was sent there . . . by the Juvenile Judge of Orange County."

Prior to the hearing of my boy, one of the Probation Officers, of the Juvenile Department of Orange County, advised my husband, myself and my boy, that my son did not need an attorney, and we followed his advice. At the time of the hearing, I asked the Juvenile Judge if I could explain a matter in connection with my boy, and the Juvenile Judge replied to me as follows: "YOU SHUT YOUR MOUTH!"

Remember this, under the law of the State of California, a

Stages Drama

George Y. Hammond, under whose direction a dramatic presentation of a drunk driving trial will be presented in Santa Ana Friday evening.

A dramatic presentation called "Death Takes the Steering Wheel" will be staged 7:30 p. m. Friday by George Y. Hammond in the Nazarene church, West Fifth and Barton streets, with the United Brethren church co-operating.

The presentation is the court record of a drunk driving case. Hammond, who appeared in several local churches in 1937 in "Prisoner at the Bar," points out that death took the steering wheel in nearly 43,000 accidents on the nation's highways during 1937. He declares that alcohol was a contributing factor in 60 per cent of the cases.

Twenty-one residents of Santa Ana will participate in the presentation, with Hammond playing the role of defense attorney. W. J. Julian will be judge; Rev. Everett E. Johnson, district attorney; O. M. Harrison, court clerk; Arthur Yount, prisoner; Rev. L. D. Meggers, coroner; E. G. Warner, detective; Roberta Emerson, sweetheart; Mrs. Albert Cole, star witness; Beth Smith, bailiff.

The jurors will be: Melvin McNeal, Mrs. L. D. Meggers, W. H. English, W. A. Culbertson, Mrs. Beulah Wilson, W. G. Vaught, Harvey Hart, Earl Matthews, Roy Williams, Mrs. Florence Mustard, Miss Mabel Dixon, U. S. Colby.

And Alaska were shown by Mrs. Julia Ann Hyde.

The committee having the dinner in charge, had as its chairman Mrs. Bess Moberly who was assisted by her husband, Hanigan Moberly, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Isbell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Dixon, Mrs. Mary Mann, Mr. Charles J. Baialar, Mrs. Gussie Lutz and her daughter Betty.

VETERANS DINE AND SEE FILM

Calumpit Camp, United Spanish War Veterans and its auxiliary, held the usual pot luck dinner and entertainment, at the Knights of Columbus hall, last night, with about 75 in attendance and with Commander Albert P. Dresser presiding.

The entertainment, which followed the dinner, consisted of violin solos by Miss Charlotte Starford accompanied on the piano by Dr. David Craighead, both of Santa Ana. They were encored repeatedly.

Moving pictures of California

father and mother have an equal interest in a juvenile court hearing as an infant has. Listen to what the Appellate Court of this State, in the case of In re Hill, 78 Cal. App., page 26 says: "We have no doubt that in a proceeding of this nature the parents are sufficiently interested parties to entitle them to be present to protect their interests, as well as the interests of the child. To this end it is clear that they may produce evidence and cross-examine witnesses, may appeal from the final orders adversely affecting their claims, and may be advised and represented by counsel."

How do you like that? No wonder the people of our county are getting mad. No wonder they are demanding a change for the better in methods of handling unfortunate boys and girls who get into trouble.

Friends, I believe in justice for children as well as for adults. If I am chosen as Juvenile Court Judge, I will listen to a child's friends as well as to his enemies and accusers!

Last week you heard me read an affidavit by an Orange County mother which quoted officials of Preston Reform School as saying that there must be something wrong in Orange County, for that three-fourths of the boys sent from Orange County to that school should not be sent there.

In addition to the affidavit of that mother, I have an affidavit before me from a father in Orange County, and I promised the father that I would not read his name over the radio. This affidavit, omitting the name of the party who made it, is as follows:

" . . . being first duly sworn deposes and says: That he has resided in Orange County at Santa Ana, for the last 5 years; That in May of 1937 he talked to the Superintendent of Preston Reform School at Ione, and said Superintendent of said School stated to him at that time, that three-fourths of the boys sent from Orange County to that Reform School should not have been sent to said school; he further said at that time, that it was not the policy of the Board controlling the reform school to have first offenders committed to said school, but they had to accept them in case they were sent there . . ."

In addition to this affidavit, I have other affidavits of mothers, as well as fathers, stating in substance that the Superintendent of the Reform School at Preston stated that three-fourths of the boys sent there from Orange County should not have been committed. Time will not permit me to read these affidavits, but I say to you that I will be glad to show anyone these affidavits if they will come to my office.

Listen to this affidavit. The maker is J. A. Cranston, a respected citizen of Santa Ana, and a former superintendent of schools in Santa Ana.

"This is to testify that I, the undersigned, was for 28 years, chairman of the juvenile committee, in Orange County. I was present at many of the hearings in the Juvenile Court against minors. Upon repeated occasions I have heard the Juvenile Judge state to parents to 'Shut your mouth. If I want any information from you, I will ask you for it.'"

"The undersigned has been acquainted with one known as 'Boss' Warren, then and now an instructor in the State School at Preston. Said Mr. Warren has stated to the undersigned that at least 75 per cent of the boys sent to Preston School of Industry from Orange County, should not have been sent there. He further stated that those in charge of the School at Preston, wondered why so many boys were sent from Orange County to that school. Signed, J. A. Cranston."

This should settle two things in your mind; first, too many of our boys are sent to the reform school; second, mothers and fathers should have a free right to be heard in the juvenile court of this county.

Last night newspapers purported to publish a letter sent from O. H. Close, superintendent at the Preston Reform School, to Judge Ames, who now seeks to defend the appalling record Orange County has established in sending more boys to the reform school than any other county of comparable population. But Mr. Close did not refute his statement to Orange County parents that three-fourths of our boys sent to Preston should not be sent there.

There was a lot of words said in the publicity story written for Judge Ames. BUT, STRANGELY ENOUGH, NOT ONE WORD IS SAID IN DENIAL OF THE FACT THAT DURING A FIVE-YEAR PERIOD THIS COUNTY HAS SENT MORE BOYS TO PRESTON SCHOOL THAN ANY OTHER COUNTY OF EQUAL POPULATION.

There has been some question raised as to the wisdom of the American Legion launching an investigation of the juvenile court and detention home of Orange County, just before an election. Frankly, I think such an investigation should be put off until after the election, so that no talk of politics would be harmful to the cause which means so much to our boys and girls.

The case is now in the record. You voters have the power to make the change. If I am successful in my campaign for superior judge, there will be a change.

Chapel Forms Wedding Background

Choosing the quaint Capella de San Antonio as the setting for her wedding, Miss Margaret Abel exchanged vows with Marvin Stutheit yesterday afternoon at three o'clock with the Rev. C. G. Schmidt officiating at the rites.

Miss Abel, the ward of George Redfield, who also gave her in marriage, chose a smart teal blue gown, wearing a diamond necklace with it, and she carried a white prayer book from which the bride read the wedding vows. Her flowers were gardenias.

Mr. Stutheit was assisted by Mike White, and Mrs. Charles Pannier accompanied Harry Layton, who sang several numbers preceding the rites. Two tiny flower girls, Misses Jeannine Pannier and Marlene Stutheit, led the procession to the altar, and each was dressed in blue georgette over pink taffeta.

Thirty guests were received during a reception held in the chapel, where the bride cut the wedding cake. Following a honeymoon spent in San Diego and Mexico, the couple will make their home in Santa Ana, where Mr. Stutheit is connected with the Excelsior creamery. Both young people received their schooling in Santa Ana and Orange schools, and the groom is a member of the Orange Twenty-Third club.

FIFTY-FIFTY TO INSTALL ON WEEK-END PARTY

Annual inaugural party of Fifty-Fifty will be held this year at Hotel Coronado, the week-end of the twelfth and thirteenth, announcements in the mail today revealed. At that time LeRoy Burns will be installed president, with Bill Grafton to become secretary-treasurer. New directors are Heber Fowler, H. B. Green, Ed Farnsworth, Ralph Sampson, and Lawrence Reynolds.

Included on the week-end program will be a formal dinner dance Saturday night, breakfast, luncheon, and the inaugural dinner Sunday. Ladies will have a bridge tournament, and other diversions planned are swimming, tennis, badminton, and sailing.

MASQUERS IN PLEASANT PARTY

Magnolia camp of the R. N. A. sponsored a masquerade dance when it met Monday evening for an evening given over to the Halloween spirit.

The members, costumed and masked, paraded in a grand parade, and then turned to the dancing. The members, costumed and masked, paraded in a grand parade, and then turned to the dancing. The members, costumed and masked, paraded in a grand parade, and then turned to the dancing.

'ALUMNS' TO BE HONORED

All women's service clubs of the Santa Ana Junior college have issued invitations for a tea to be held in the Y. M. C. A. building this Friday afternoon between the hours of 3 and 5. The affair is to honor alumnae members of these groups since this is to be the gala homecoming week-end at the school.

Miss Audrey Sattler is arranging the program and other details, and is assisted by various members of the clubs.

Pan Hellenic Dance Plans Under Way

Although eight weeks away, the Pan Hellenic formal dance already is an important point on the social horizon, and plans for its success were made at a meeting of Pan Hellenic society last evening in the Victoria Drive home of Mrs. Clarence Holmes.

Mrs. Victor Hupp is to be general chairman of the dance, always a highlight of the Christmas season, and this year to be held Dec. 27 at the local Veterans' hall (American Legion hall). Assisting her will be Mrs. Harry LeBard as ticket chairman, Mrs. Newell Moore as decoration chairman, Mrs. William Croddy as patron and patroness chairman, Miss Helen Kennedy as time and place chairman, Mrs. H. G. Wilson as music chairman, and Mrs. Henry Williams, publicity.

Last night's meeting was a pleasant one, with half a dozen tables in play. An early dessert course was served at small tables centered by candle-lighted jack-o-lanterns. Hostesses for the evening with Mrs. Holmes were Mrs. Jack Hill, Miss Helen Knox, Miss Helen Wiessman, Miss Helen Kennedy, and Mrs. H. R. Church.

They presented high-score prizes of a bottle of cologne to Mrs. William Croddy, Carolyn Wells, and Mrs. E. E. Knipe.

TEA HONORS RETURN OF PASTOR

Mrs. Sam Butler opened her Riverside drive home Tuesday afternoon for a tea honoring the return of the Rev. C. M. Aker and Mrs. Aker to the pastorate of the Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church for the ninth year.

Assisting Mrs. Butler were Mrs. Jack Hubbard, Mrs. John Heath, Mrs. Ernest Layton, Mrs. Edward Schwarm and Mrs. Herbert Covington.

The home was elaborately decorated with white chrysanthemums, and pouring at the beautifully appointed tea table were Mrs. Harry Gardner, Mrs. Ann, Mrs. James Nuckolls who were later assisted by Mrs. Layton and Mrs. Hubbard.

Mrs. Aker, after whom the Louise Aker circle of the church was named, was presented with several lovely gifts, one being a crocheted spread, a present from Mrs. Henry Donan. Dr. Aker received a bill fold engraved with his name. About 100 guests dropped in to offer their congratulations during the afternoon.

Mary Martha circle of the church honored Mrs. Aker again that evening with a handkerchief shower in the home of Miss Leone Baxter and Irma Baxter Owen in their home at 929 Spurgeon street.

The affair was informal in nature, and followed a Halloween theme in decorations.

YACHT CLUB PLANS COSTUME DINNER-DANCE

Anticipated by many local people this week-end is the old-time sailors' costume ball to be held at the Newport Harbor Yacht club in celebration of Halloween.

"Sons of Mexico" marimba band will provide music and entertainment, and dinner will be served at 8:45 p. m. Juniors will be welcomed to the dinner and to the dancing, which starts at 9:30 p. m.

Many prizes will be awarded for the costume, which is to be of waterfront or sailor inspiration. Reservations for members and their guests are now being made.

Hallowe'en MOTIF USED

Mrs. Everett Montgomery was hostess to her club last evening in her home at 919 Kilson drive, employing a gay black and orange color scheme to carry out the holiday idea.

Mrs. William Steiner was guest of honor for Dorcas Hendrie, and members present were Mrs. Everett Kingsbury, Mrs. B. A. Hershey, Mrs. Paul Patton, Mrs. Warren Webb, Mrs. E. K. Lacy and Mrs. Mary Lucke. Mrs. Kingsbury, Mrs. Hershey and Mrs. Patton were high-scorers.

ONE TABLE IS MISSING FROM CLUB

It was in the home of her mother, Mrs. William Maag, that Mrs. Burley Durbin entertained her bridge club last night. With four members absent, but two tables were in play, and high score prizes went to Miss Estelle Schlesinger and Mrs. Bert Hoffman.

Clever table decorations of an ox-cart heaped with gourds and fruits were much admired during the late refreshment course.

Members present were Miss Schlesinger, Mrs. Hoffman, Miss Jerry Haupt, Mrs. Albert Markel, Mrs. Walter Markel, Mrs. Hugh McKeny, Mrs. Bert Banks and Miss Bernice Borchard.

Surprise Honors Birthday

Arranging all details of a dinner party so that the guest of honor would be completely surprised, Mrs. Robert Fernandez invited nine couples to enjoy an evening in her home, 1915 North Flower street, celebrating the birthday anniversary of Mr. Fernandez.

Mrs. Fernandez used rose shades of dahlias and blue delphinium in the attractive rooms, and arranged appointments of the dining table around a fruit centerpiece on her table.

A second surprise of the evening was the shower of gifts presented by the guests to Mr. Fernandez. The hostess had scheduled bridge for the remainder of the evening and when scores were tallied Fred May was awarded the prize for high score.

With Mr. and Mrs. Fernandez were Mr. and Mrs. Riley Huber, Mr. and Mrs. Fred May, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Collier, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Knox, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ewart, Dr. and Mrs. John L. Wehly, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Langley and Mr. and Mrs. George Osterman.

TALK AND BRIDGE ENJOYED BY SECTION

Charming table decorations were in evidence at yesterday's meeting of Current Events section of Ebell, for from a huge Mexican sombrero resplendent autumn fruits, gourds, corn and grapes, and around them were many little Mexican figures.

During the luncheon hour Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith of Laguna Beach, who were members of Thomas Glenn's European cruise party this summer, gave an interesting account of their trip, augmented by moving pictures.

At the bridge that always winds up the section's day, Mrs. Charles Cogan and Mrs. Hazel Maag were winners of prizes. Mrs. Fay Harvey was a special guest, and hostesses for the day were Mrs. Harvey Bennett, Mrs. Nick Brook and Mrs. William H. Maag.

Members present, with the hostesses, were Mrs. Cogan, Mrs. Ray Crenshaw, Mrs. Harvey Gardner, Mrs. E. H. Guthrie, Mrs. Walter Hisey, Mrs. Robert Jeffrey, Mrs. S. B. Kaufman, Mrs. John Gettler, Mrs. R. E. Langley, Mrs. Hazel Maag, Mrs. William Maag, Mrs. E. L. McKany, Mrs. Nat Neff, Mrs. George Osterman, Mrs. Lynn Ostrander, Mrs. Frank Sawyer, Mrs. Hugh Shields, Mrs. Harvey Spears, Miss Louise Tubbs and Mrs. George Veeh.

DANCE TAKES PLACE OF CONTRACT

Changing procedure for the evening, Miss Betty Bradley entertained the 12 Little Working Girls at a dance instead of the regular bridge session last evening.

The guests and their escorts met at 121 Orange avenue where the large living room had been converted into a dance floor and game room. Flowers in the bright oranges and yellows were used for decorations, and refreshments served at the end of the evening followed the fall motif in nature.

Present with Miss Bradley were the Misses Virginia Curry, Dorothy Coe, Doris Flippin, Harriett Fowler, their escorts, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Pinkston and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Curry. The next regular meeting of the club will be with Miss Coe and will be the regular bridge affair.

QUILL PEN ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Quill Pen welcomed a new member when it met this week, and enjoyed hearing the initial manuscript reading of Mrs. T. M. Hollowell. Likewise occurred election of officers, with Mrs. William Fritch being named president, Mrs. Lucy Marshall, vice president and Mrs. Carleton Smith, secretary.

During the evening's program Mrs. Smith read two poems and Mrs. Emmett Elliott, hostess for the evening, read a play.

Members present other than those named were Mrs. J. U. Viaw, retiring president; Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. Paul Patton, Mrs. Warren Webb, Mrs. E. K. Lacy and Mrs. Mary Lucke. Mrs. Kingsbury, Mrs. Hershey and Mrs. Patton were high-scorers.

MRS. STAUFFER IS HONORED AT PARTY

By adding an extra table to their bridge club yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Ray Tarr and Mrs. Robert Guild were able to make it an intimate little party that featured Mrs. Alvin Stauffer as a surprise guest.

Guests served themselves buffet style to a dessert course that carried out a pink and blue motif already set by tapers in ivory holders and a porcelain stork from which arose delicate spikes of delphinium and pink roses.

At that time an heirloom high-chair laden with layette gifts was wheeled in. At bridge later, costume clips were awarded Mrs. Stauffer and Mrs. Spielman.

Special guests were Mrs. S. Waterman, mother of the honoree, and Mrs. Herbert Stroschein, Mrs. Clarence Ranney, and Mrs. George Spielman. Members present, with Mrs. Tarr and Mrs. Guild, were Mrs. George Walker, Mrs. Claude Brakel, Mrs. Harold Dale, Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. Albert Harvey, and Mrs. Stauffer.

MRS. WILLIAMS IS HOSTESS TO CLUB

Their usual pleasant afternoon was spent yesterday by members of the Domestic Arts club when they met at the home of Mrs. Thomas E. Williams.

A dessert course was served at 7:30 p. m. with chrysanthemums, and the afternoon was devoted to sewing. Mrs. E. G. Summers and Mrs. W. B. Martin were unable to be present, but members there were Mrs. W. B. Williams, Mrs. C. F. Skirvin, Mrs. C. J. Skirvin, Mrs. J. C. Sexton, Mrs. T. P. Kinney, Mrs. H. W. Leech, Mrs. Fleetwood Bell, Mrs. C. L. Johnson, and the hostess.

Divorced at 15

WABASH, Ind. (AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Foshough, 15-year-old mother of a nineteen-month-old child, was the youngest person ever to get a divorce in the Wabash circuit court. She and her husband, Ralph, 19, were married in November, 1936.

NEW PLAY AT PADUA IS ENJOYABLE

The curtain failed to rise for "Tito, el Toreador," newest production of the Mexican Players at the Padua Hills theater, for the opening performance last Wednesday. It did not prove embarrassing to the players, however, as it was up when the audience entered the theater.

The unusual procedure of rolling up a curtain to open the novel stage methods utilized in play is only one of a number of presenting the hilarious story of a bullfighter who reigned as a hero for a day that are entertaining audiences matinee and nights.

Not the least of these are the drill comments of two off-duty members of the cast who lounge under the proscenium on the sides of the stage and express their personal ideas as to how the plot is going to develop.

Judging by the expressions of visitors, this innovation serves a dual purpose in contributing to the merriment of the production and enabling those who do not understand Spanish to get the full benefit of the bullfighter's solution of the problem of "what price, glory?"

Manuel Aguilar, as Tito, heads the cast of 12 talented players.

SHOWER IS PRETTY COMPLIMENT

Enjoyable recently was the stork shower given by Mrs. Margaret Kirkland of Placentia, complimenting her sister, Mrs. Dora Schrader of Anaheim.

Lovely dahlias, roses and marigolds decorated the house where the evening's diversion, and Mrs. Alma Rader was winner of first prize with Miss Pauline Jeffers winning consolation.

At the refreshment hour a basin was rolled in, filled with lovely gifts, which the honoree opened and passed about. Guests of Mrs. Kirkland were Mrs. Schrader, Miss Ida Mae Jones, Mrs. Edythe McWhorter, and Mrs. Nadine Bopp of Santa Ana; Mrs. Mary Patton of Tustin, Mrs. Marie Smith of Los Angeles, Mrs. Ileana Kirkham of Wilmington, Mrs. Agnes Kirkham of Garden Grove, Mrs. Alma Rader, Mrs. Olga Schuringa, Mrs. Esther Van Arman, Mrs. Lorena Ramo, Mrs. Gladys Bercot, and Miss Pauline Jeffers of Anaheim.

IS HOSTESS WHEN BRIDGE GROUP MEETS

Mrs. Don Andrews was hostess on Tuesday to her contract club at a pretty luncheon at Daniger's at one o'clock. The Halloween motif was used, and flowers in the bronze shades in hurricane lanterns furthered the theme. Also used were the orange and black tapers.

Mrs. Howard Rapp, Mrs. Arthur Trivick and Mrs. Robert Weston substituted for absentees, who were Mrs. Richard Couden, Mrs. Don McDonald and Mrs. Charles Givens.

Members present were the Mesdames Stanley Reinhaus, George Parker, Leon Dickey, Charles Nussbaum, Paul Wiltmer, George Paul, John Cannon and the hostess.

Tid-Bits

By DR. MARY E. WRIGHT

Mrs. Emily Munro went "tripping" off to Palo Alto over the week-end, taking with her Mrs. J. C. Sexton and Mrs. Hazel Turner. Of course their objective was to get a glimpse of those nice young people, Margaret and Jean Munro, and incidentally to see the Stanford-U. S. C. game.

There are some exquisite artistic pictures displayed in a shop on Broadway, colored etchings and water color prints. In the last class, one of sail boats on a sunlit sea is very lovely. Just one very noticeable oil painting of brilliant red poppies and deep blue delphinium in a very blue vase, with a green and blue background would brighten a corner of one's den and mean always like red.

Look alike: Mrs. Lyman Nelson and Miss Helen Klein, really more alike than Mrs. Nelson is to her twin Mrs. Roy Yoder. I hear that the first two have been mistaken for each other.

DAVIS ATTACK ON DETENTION HOME WARMER

Affidavits stating that juvenile court judge H. G. Ames told parents of young prisoners "shut your mouth" and charges that the county detention home is not a home but a "prison" were read over the radio last night by James L. Davis, Judge Ames' opponent in the November election.

Davis continued his attack on administration of the juvenile court, reiterating his charges that 127 Orange county boys—more than any other county of comparable size—have been sentenced to Preston School of Industry during the past five years.

"We all know that reform schools are the training schools for crime," said Davis, "and that our boys of Orange county, when sentenced to one of our reform schools, are heading towards criminal careers."

"... our detention home ... looks more like a jail than it does a home ... there are 36 cells there ... how many of you have a cell in your home in which to keep your children?"

Davis read what he said was an affidavit from an Orange county woman, mother of a youth now in Preston school. It said in part:

"I asked the juvenile judge if I could explain a matter in connection with my boy, and the juvenile judge replied to me as follows: 'You shut your mouth.'"

He read what he said were further affidavits quoting officials of the Preston institution to the effect that "75 per cent of the boys sent here from Orange county should not have been sent here."

He read an affidavit from J. A. Cranston, former superintendent of schools who quit the juvenile committee last year after differences with Judge Ames, saying:

"I was for 28 years chairman of the juvenile committee in Orange county ... Upon repeated occasions I have heard the juvenile judge state to parents 'Shut your mouth. If I want any information from you, I will ask for it.'"

Davis said he thought the investigation voted by the American Legion's county council should be put off until after election "so that no talk of politics would be harmful to the cause which means so much to our boys and girls."

Peace Declared Benefit To Copper

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Despite heavy demands for copper occasioned by a world-wide armament race, the industry would benefit from peace, Kenneth C. Brownell, vice president of the American Smelting & Refining Co., New York, said today in an address prepared for delivery at the fifth annual metal mining convention and exposition of the American mining congress, western division.

Rural ministers of Orange county today were urged to attend the annual convention of the California Farm Bureau federation in Sacramento Nov. 13 to 17.

Farm bureau headquarters here said invitations would be sent to all rural ministers in the county many of whom are active in community programs which parallel farm bureau activities.

Capt. E. A. Chitwood, head of the Los Angeles narcotic detail for the past 12 years, will be speaker a week from tonight at a meeting of the Orange County Peace Officers' association, in Sam's cafe, on the coast highway.

Captain Chitwood will speak on narcotic use and forms, and will illustrate his talk with exhibits. R. C. Riccio, accordionist, will provide entertainment.

President Hunter Leach of the association announced the group was planning a "movie ball" at the Rendezvous ballroom, Balboa, for Dec. 8.

Appointees on a committee working on a monument for Deputy Sheriff Bob Squires, killed in a battle with a desperado a quarter-century ago at Tomato Springs, were announced today by Leach.

They are: Police Chief George Franze, Orange; Police Chief R. R. Hodgkinson, Newport Beach; Deputy Sheriff Ives Brown and Constable Charles Mitchell of Santa Ana.

FEW BOYS OR GIRLS SENT TO INSTITUTIONS

Of 2248 juvenile delinquency cases referred to the juvenile court since 1923, less than 15 per cent have been sentenced to reformatories or the detention home, Mrs. Nora Allen, county probation officer, reported today.

Mrs. Allen released figures on disposition of cases brought to the court's attention through her office, have been sentenced to reformatories or the detention home, Mrs. Nora Allen, county probation officer, reported today.

Average number of cases reported to the probation office 1933 to 1937 inclusive, is 449.6. Of these she said 78.11 per cent had been released, 3.05 per cent sent to Preston School of Industry, 2.23 per cent to Whittier state school, 4.6 per cent to Ventura School for Girls and 9.19 per cent sentenced to juvenile home terms.

Others, she said, had been settled out of court.

BIG HOUSING PLAN URGED

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—David Lasser, national president of the Workers' Alliance, arriving here for a three-day visit, said today his organization favors a $5,000,000,000 federal appropriation to launch a housing industry with the aid of communities.

Declaring "we need a big new industry to stimulate recovery," Lasser said "that industry is a low-cost housing industry."

Lasser, 36 years of age and a 1924 graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, stated a similar program "pulled Great Britain out of its depression."

Flying Squadron In Kern Co. Jail

BAKERSFIELD. (AP)—Charged with inciting riot and conspiracy to break and enter in connection with a strike of cotton pickers, 100 men were held in jail here today by Sheriff Ed Chamness.

The arrested men were identified by the sheriff as members of a "flying squadron." The sheriff charged the men were entering property after having been repeatedly warned to keep off.

EARLY DAYS OF SANTA ANA TO BE DISCUSSED

Fifty years of continuous service will be celebrated by the Santa Ana chamber of commerce next month.

The chamber will celebrate its Golden Jubilee with a community dinner and program at the American Legion hall Nov. 17, Secretary Howard I. Wood announced today.

The booster body was organized in 1888 as the Orange County Board of Trade, two years later became the Orange County Chamber of Commerce, and finally the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

Although the name was changed during the first few years, there has been no break in the operation of the chamber since its organization. Secretary Wood pointed out.

The program has not yet been worked out in detail, but it is expected that there will be a number of old-timers present to review the early days in Santa Ana.

Principal speaker, it was announced, will be Harry N. Culver, founder of Culver City and now director of finance of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. His subject is to be "California Straight Ahead."

In charge of the jubilee celebration will be the local chamber's committee on city promotion and advertising, of which E. B. Sharp-ley is chairman.

The committee is expected to meet early next week to formulate plans for the celebration.

SCHOOL MUSIC SERIES OPENS

With two concerts given yesterday at the Lathrop Junior High school, the Federal Music project's symphony orchestra launched its fall series of "music appreciation" classes which was a popular part of the school program last year.

With the endorsement of the county's school principals, various schools are visited with the two-fold purpose of providing instruction in instrumental grouping and cultivating the children's taste in music.

Leon Eckles, project supervisor, declared as his opinion that the value of this training to American youth cannot be overestimated.

"For it will pay large dividends in the production of a higher and better citizenship, arising from the natural moral and spiritual benefits of music study."

Mrs. Hazel Hesselein is responsible for commentary on the programs, with explanatory notes in connection with the themes, legends and stories upon which the musical pictures are based, which is distributed in mimeographed form prior to the concerts.

N. Y. A. Band to Parade Tomorrow

Featuring the antics of the four Majorettes, the N. Y. A. band is scheduled to parade in the downtown area of the city tomorrow at 7 p. m. Heading the procession will be Miss Betty Koster and Miss Margie Morgan of Santa Ana, Miss Betty Pleares and Miss Jane Weeks of Long Beach.

This group is to march in the Anaheim Halloween parade Friday night, and will be heard in a concert in Birch park Sunday from 1:30 to 2:30 p. m.

"IT'S ASININE!" That's What Wayne Harrison Says About Republican Assertion

"Asinine. Absolutely unfounded," Wayne Harrison, Democratic campaign manager here, said today.

Republicans had referred in a publicity release to "widely circulated rumors that Culbert L. Olson, 'Ham 'n' Eggs' candidate for governor, has bartered off the right to name the California insurance commissioner in return for political support."

The Republican "rumor" was that Harrison had demanded the right to name the state insurance commissioner in the event of Olson's election.

Harrison, young Santa Ana insurance man, was both amused and indignant. The rumor, he said, was started by a few "disgruntled persons" and encouraged by Republicans in an effort to discredit the Democratic campaign.

"Olson has promised me nothing. I'm not after patronage," said Harrison. "I'm interested in the election of Olson—and of all the Democratic candidates, but I'm not interested in any personal gain."

"The first 'rumor' was that I was going to be insurance commissioner. They found that didn't take hold, so they changed the story a little and said I was going to name the commissioner. That doesn't make sense, either."

"That sort of talk isn't going to hurt the Democratic party or the Democratic campaign. It just is designed to hurt me, and I'm not a candidate. It's asinine."

Republican headquarters quoted Frank Tausch, Anaheim city judge and competitor of Harrison as an insurance man, as declaring "the practice of trading public officers for political support belongs to Tammany. It is unthinkable."

County Clerk B. J. Smith today was starting a $15,000 moving job—the seasonal business of moving 12 tons of sample ballots, voters' booklets, election officials' appointments and precinct cards to 74,908 registered voters for the Nov. 8 general election. They will be the mail starting tomorrow.

Cost for postage alone on the 74,908 packages—each containing a sample ballot, precinct card and a booklet explaining the 25 propositions to appear on the ballot—will be $3370.86, or 4½ cents each.

MRS. MARTIN, CLUB LEADER, LAID TO REST

Mrs. Frederic A. Martin, for many years prominent in Santa Ana circles, died Monday suddenly at her home, 414 South Barton street. Apparently in good health, she was stricken with a heart attack.

Mrs. Martin was a past president of the Women's club in Santa Ana, and at the time of her death was president of the Orange County Federation of Women's clubs. She held offices in similar organizations in Butte, Mont., before coming to Santa Ana, where the Martins have made their home for 15 years.

She was born in Morristown, Ill., and leaves her husband, F. A. Martin, two daughters, Mrs. Marion Mathews of this city, and Mrs. Ruth Martin Mason of Los Angeles.

Services were conducted today at the Brown and Wagner funeral home, 1414 South Barton street, by the Rev. W. J. Hatter of the Episcopal church officiating, with which church she was affiliated. Interment followed in Westminster Memorial park.

CITRUS LEAGUE ELECTS TODAY

Directors of the newly incorporated California Citrus Growers league were to meet this afternoon for organization and election of officers.

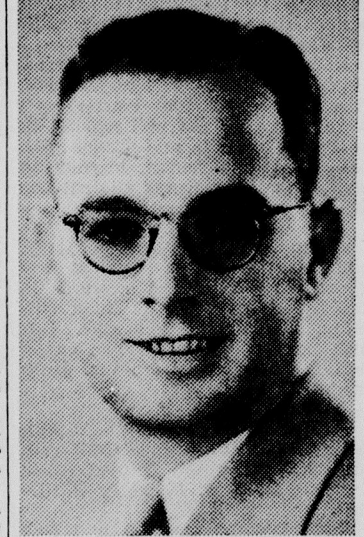

The meeting, scheduled for 4 p. m., in offices of Col. M. B. Wellington, Santa Ana, is the first called since incorporation was completed last week in Sacramento with Secretary of State Frank Jordan.

The league was formed as a fact-finding organization for citrus growers, and is expected to spread to other counties of the state.

MANY ATTEND LAST RITES FOR MRS. RANDEL

Veterans of America's wars, their wives and many friends yesterday paid their last respects to Mrs. Luella May Randel, president of Calumit auxiliary, Spanish War veterans, and past president of Ernest L. Kellogg auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Services were held in the Brown and Wagner funeral parlors, with Rev. W. J. Hatter preaching the funeral sermon and Mrs. Cora Graham providing the musical numbers. Past Department Commander Charles E. Dixon, Commander Albert P. Dresser, Past Commander Warren L. Cook, Junior Vice-Commander John H. Hinkley, Trustee Charles E. Chatlain and Quartermaster William Brown, all of Calumit camp, acted as pallbearers.

Interment was in the Melrose Abbey mausoleum where the ritualistic ceremony of the auxiliary organization was carried out by the officers of Calumit auxiliary headed by its new president, Mrs. Ruth Hess, assisted by Senior Vice Mrs. Effie Hawley, past president Estelle Dresser and Katherine Reagan, and Chaplain Maude Brown.

Among those who attended were members of Calumit and Warwick camp and their auxiliaries, Long Beach Camp No. 90 and William McKinley camp, of Long Beach; Ensign Bagley camp, of Pasadena; Ernest L. Kellogg post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and its auxiliary, and Department President Clara Fowler, of San Francisco; Past Department Presidents Mercy Savary, of Hollywood; and Ida Blakemore, of Long Beach; two other department officers, Mrs. Laura Hinkle, of Pomona, and Mrs. Kingsbury.

FRUIT GROWERS EXCHANGE HAS O. K. FOR PLAN

The broad industry-government program for the orderly marketing of the largest citrus crop on record—adopted by the National Citrus conference in Washington—was received here today with mingled feelings of approval and doubt.

The program includes federal purchase of oranges and grapefruit for distribution to the needy; barring of all low grade fruit from the market; a Florida marketing agreement and continuance of present agreements elsewhere; an appeal to canners to put a minimum price of 20 cents on fruit they buy; an emergency reduction in freight rates and a study of methods to reduce handling costs.

Local officials of the California Fruit Growers exchange gave their endorsement to the program, while some local growers and independent shippers declared "it is just more government regulation" and not a "permanent solution" to the problem.

M. O. D. CHIEF SILENT
General Manager McDaniels of the Mutual Orange distributors at Redlands told The Journal "he had no comment at this time."

The California Fruit Growers exchange pointed out "the federal government is willing to spend $10,000,000 next season for citrus fruits provided the citrus industry in each producing state has a marketing program, which, along with this government assistance will accomplish something in the way of bringing fair returns to the grower."

PLAN HELD NEEDED
Vice-President C. W. Schleussner of the American Fruit Growers, Inc., and general manager of the California division asserted that a national program to control orange and grapefruit shipments is necessary if California Citrus growers are to continue profitable operations.

"A program for controlling shipments of oranges and grapefruit on a national basis certainly is necessary if the industry in the United States can expect California to continue to operate under a marketing agreement that might benefit California producers," he said.

ONLY TEMPORARY
Colonel M. B. Wellington, of Santa Ana, a member of the California Citrus Growers league—newly organized "fact-finding group"—took view that the accord is only a temporary solution which does not solve the problem. He said it is not a basic cure.

Wellington said the issue must be solved by those in actual charge of production and selling, and that many of the ablest men in the citrus industry are now working on that problem.

VERY CONSTRUCTIVE
Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg offered the opinion that the proposed program worked out by the citrus conference will be "very constructive" if it succeeds in handling the estimated huge surplus for the coming year. He said something must be done for the orderly marketing of the surplus crop.

If successful, Wahlberg said, the plan would go a long way toward solution of the present economic plight of the grower, doing more harm than good." He said the government price is never high enough to give the grower a profit.

Secretary C. J. Marks of the Orange County Farm bureau said if the plan succeeds in getting national cooperation in marketing of the citrus crop, it would be a step forward. He pointed out that much damage had been done to California's markets because of unregulated shipments of fruit from other sections.

ADVERTISING URGED
One interesting effect in this county, if the plan should be adopted, Marks said, would be regarding the marginal ranches. These marginal ranches produce only second grade products—and the proposed program would keep all low-grade fruit off the market.

Another close observer of the citrus industry, who would not be quoted, said in his opinion that advertising could be extended to wipe out the surplus crop. He pointed to those juices and fruits that have leaped into popular favor because of advertising.

Artists Asked To Send Work To S. F. Fair

Orange county artists were invited today to submit work for possible display at the Golden Gate International exposition in San Francisco.

Each artist may submit one exhibit in each medium in which he works—oil, watercolor, pastel, original prints, pictorial photography and sculpture.

The state has been divided into five districts—this one including San Diego, Imperial and Orange counties, and work accepted by local juries will be sent to San Francisco.

Judging for entries in this district will be at the Fine Arts gallery, San Diego, and entries must be delivered there between Jan. 11 and 14.

Entry blanks may be obtained from Mrs. Jane Amundsen, director of the art exhibition, 660 Market street, San Francisco. A separate entry blank is necessary for each medium in which the artist works.

HONOR SOCIETY SENDS BIDS TO 3 STUDENTS

Invitations had been extended today to three prospective Santa Ana Junior college students for membership into Beta Phi Gamma, national honorary journalistic fraternity. The invitations were sent by President Ed Velarde and Secretary Gloria Kirchner of the jaycee chapter.

Names of those to whom invitations have been sent will not be revealed until it is known whether the prospects have accepted or not, it was explained.

To become a member of the society, students must maintain a "C" average, and have done a year's work on at least one of the college publications.

The jaycee Sigma chapter was installed in May with eight charter members.

Plans will be discussed in the near future to send 80 representatives to the national convention of Beta Phi Gamma at Santa Barbara Nov. 11, 12 and 13. The convention will be held in conjunction with Alpha Phi Gamma, four-year college fraternity.

YANKS TRADE HOAG AND GLENN TO BROWNS

Saints Invade Chaffey for League Test Tomorrow

HAMAKER AND MUSICK ON AILING LIST

Making their last Citrus Belt league stand away from home, Santa Ana's Saints travel to Ontario to battle Chaffey's Tigers at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The game was moved ahead from Friday because of a teachers' institute.

The Saints close their league schedule with Redlands here Nov. 4 and San Bernardino here Nov. 18. They draw a bye Armistice day.

BOTH TEAMS BEATEN
On Friday afternoon, Pomona goes to Redlands. Riverside plays at San Bernardino Friday night. Relative strength of Chaffey and Santa Ana cannot be adequately determined as Chaffey drew a league bye last week and lost a 13-0 decision to Riverside in its opener. Santa Ana was shut out by Pomona 19-0, and lost to Riverside, 12-6.

Assist. Coach Joe Koegler, who scouted Chaffey, reports that the line averages about 190 pounds. The team as a whole is alert and aggressive.

To offset what is expected to be a powerful forward wall, Coach Bill Foote has revamped his own line. Orval Tatum makes his first appearance in the starting lineup, at right tackle in place of Bob Webb. Bill Meyer will also be in the starting team, scheduled for the left guard spot. Coach Foote expects that these changes are being made to utilize his heaviest men on the line. Rest of the wall will remain intact, with "Chuck" Pride and Bill Was, ends; Howard McMillan, left tackle; Don Dunning, right guard; and Ralph Shallenberger, center.

Big Guard Dunning will be used to back up the line at center on defense, with Shallenberger shifting to the guard spot. There is a possibility that when Shallenberger is not in the lineup, Dunning will do the centering. Foote said. In that event, Ray Mercado and Vernon Ashby probably will get the call at guard.

HIGASHI TO START

Little George Higashi will once again get the starting nod from Coach Foote. He will start at his old quarterback position in place of Barney Robinson, made-over end who has started the last two games.

Two of the team's best players are ailing with injuries and their loss will be noticeable. Capt. Gene Hamaker wrenched his right knee again and will not see action until the San Bernardino game Nov. 18. Fullback Bobbie Musick broke his little finger on his right hand and may not be able to get into the team's game. Aurero Orozco will be ready at fullback. Halfbacks will be Wayne Piper and Ralph Barnes.

Loyola Leaves For Centenary Tilt Saturday

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Thirty-three players of the Loyola university football squad, accompanied by Coach Tom Lieb, assistants and a handful of supporters, leave today for Shreveport, La., to play Centenary Saturday.

Included in the squad are several members of the 1937 Lion team which upset the Gentlemen of Louisiana out here in 1937. Chief of these is Jack Lyons, husky halfback, who has thrown—and completed—several spectacular long distance passes this season.

Loyola, having won three games and lost to St. Mary's and Arizona by close scores, was determined to make this a successful excursion. The team will stop over for a workout tomorrow at El Paso.

Thornhill Predicts Upset Win for Stanford Eleven

PALO ALTO. (AP)—Stanford expects to beat U. C. L. A. at Los Angeles Saturday because everybody expects the Indians to lose, Coach Tiny Thornhill said today.

While the remnants of the Stanford football team took it easy yesterday, Thornhill received reports the Bruins were being installed as the betting favorites.

"There is no more goofy series in Coast football than the Stanford-U. C. L. A. games," Thornhill declared. "We hope to win because everybody expects us to lose. That's how the thing has always gone."

EAST HAS .615 GRID RECORD

Army and Notre Dame Clash

NEW YORK. (AP)—The good old East, cradle of football and the object of more than one sneer in recent years from other sections, still is tops for the 1938 season in intercollegiate football.

The situation may be altered considerably this week-end when no fewer than eight top-flight eastern teams meet opposition that may be too tough to handle. But while it lasts, the east can boast a record of 16 victories and only ten defeats in intercollegiate games this year, a percentage of .615.

The mid-west comes second on the list with 14 wins and 12 losses for a .538 average. The other major sections are below the .500 mark.

The "catch" in these figures, of course, lies in the fact that eastern and mid-western teams usually knock off a few weak rivals from the south and southwest during the early part of the season. Against each other, the east and mid-west are all square with five victories for each. The east and mid-west are all square with five victories apiece after Michigan topped Yale, Michigan State knocked off Syracuse and Notre Dame downed Carnegie Tech last Saturday against Colgate's lone victory over Iowa.

GIRLS RISK NECKS BY FORMING ICE HOCKEY LEAGUE IN EAST

NEW YORK. (AP)—The winter half of the silly season has been inaugurated locally by the more-or-less formation of a girls' ice hockey league, with branches of same to be established in Philadelphia and Atlantic City.

Guilding spirits of the movement are the two large Sherwood sisters, Morice and Jean, who are professional fancy skaters and will be amateur hockey players. They have one full team on the ice now and expect to get together seven more.

"Maybe we'll have to cut down on the fierce body-checking that the men do," Jean said, seriously, "but outside of that there's no reason why girls can't play just as exciting hockey as the men. We are all good skaters, so all we have to learn is how to knock the puck around."

That's all they have to learn, and they began learning it while a corps of photographers squatted on the ice and snapped some fetching action plays. Frank Boucher, veteran star of the New York Rangers, has yielded to pressure and will coach them.

"The popularity of girls' softball games which were introduced at the Garden this year indicates that the public is interested in seeing girl athletes try their hands at other sports," Jean pointed out. "Far as I can see, ice hockey is no more dangerous for women than basketball."

Jean may revise her opinion about this later on, for not even football produces quite the resounding whack that is heard when a couple of hockey players collide in full flight.

The girls could have learned from the house physician at the Garden that a male hockey player is considered a novice until he has broken at least an arm and a leg and has had his features crocheted with a minimum of 40 stitches.

Girls are more concerned at the moment in deciding on the right kind of uniforms. Members of the first team for the time being are wearing their regular fancy skating costumes, topped off with sweaters, and the outfit looks very skippy.

"Such things as that will work themselves out," Jean predicted. She seemed very determined about the whole business.

Y. M. C. A. FIVES PLAY TONIGHT

Games tonight in the Y. M. C. A. basketball league match the Ellipse company team with A's Lock and Key shop at 7:15, and the Barr Lumber company with Treesweet Products at 8:30. Tonight's games will be the second for the four teams.

Both A's and Treesweet have won their openers. A's defeated the Famous Department store 30-22, while Treesweet defeated the Southern Counties Gas, 30-25. Ellipse's lost to the powerful Irvine five 43-20, and Barr bowed to Neal's, 38-28.

BRUINS PLAN AERIAL RAID FOR STANFORD

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The passing attack of the U. C. L. A. football team was due for further brushing up today as the squad practiced for the big game with Stanford here Saturday.

Kenny Washington, Warren Haslem, Chuck Feneback, Hal Hirsman and Merle Harris—all were throwing the ball around in yesterday's drill, and Coach Bill Spaulding apparently intends to strike via the airways against the Indians.

The Uclans came out of the Idaho game without serious injury, and should go up against the Stanfords with added strength in the return to form of Buck Gilmore, speedy backfield star. Gilmore, out since the Oregon game, had been suffering from a groin injury.

Berkeley, Calif. (AP)—It will be a greatly outweighed California line that faces the Oregon State football team at Berkeley Saturday.

Willard Dolman and Bill Stoll definitely out of the lineup because of injuries received in the Washington game last week, the reserve strength will drop the Bear line average to 179 as compared to 200 for the Oregon State team.

Ted Staffer, 169-pounder, replaces Dolman at end and 177-pound Perk Stone replaces Stoll at tackle.

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Southern California promises to be in the best condition of the present football season when the Trojans battle Coach "Tex" Oliver's Oregon eleven Saturday at Portland. Thirty-seven players will leave for the North after today's practice.

Will Sangster, who turned in a splendid game against Stanford, seems destined for the starting fullback job, replacing such regulars as Angie Peccianti and Jack Banta.

Two other backs, Sophomore Bob Peoples and Jimmy Jones, ace center, have recovered from injuries and will be ready for action.

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—The Santa Clara Broncos, 35 of them, leave today for Lansing, Mich., to play Michigan State Saturday. The Michigan team, which has lost only five games in 40 starts and employs the Notre Dame system of football, the same as Santa Clara.

Iowa Gridders And Scribes Now at Peace

IOWA CITY, Ia. (AP)—The trouble that caused University of Iowa football players to throw two editors of the Daily Iowan, student newspaper, off the practice field Monday night, apparently was "water over the dam" today.

Last night the editors watched the Hawkeye squad practice. The players ignored the presence of the newspapermen and the Daily Iowan today carried a "routine" story on the drill for the Purdue game Saturday.

The short-lived conflict ended quietly, despite assertions by principals earlier yesterday they would not budge in their determination to carry out reprisal plans.

A conference of leaders of the conflicting groups of students with Karl E. Lieb, chairman of the board in control of athletics, was credited with having ended the squabble.

The trouble began when Dennis Sullivan, sports editor of the Iowan, wrote a story in Sunday morning's edition of the student paper in which he raked the football team for alleged failure to "rest" the Colgate team which defeated them Saturday.

Monday night Sullivan and John Mooney, Iowan editor, went to watch the squad practice and were ejected bodily from the field.

"Red" Dawson's Question Box

By LOWELL (RED) DAWSON

QUESTION: What is meant by "lateral," "spot," and "shovel" passes?

Answer: A lateral pass occurs when the ball is thrown in a lateral direction to another offensive man. It must be at an angle to your own goal line. And the spot pass is a pass thrown to a man who is elected to receive before the play starts. He is supposed to arrive at a certain position to receive. The shovel pass, sometimes called the submarine pass, occurs when the ball is thrown forward to another eligible ball carrier by a passer who is five or more yards behind the line of scrimmage. It is a very short pass, usually thrown to another back. It gets the name "shovel" because it is frequently thrown underhanded. But it may be thrown under or overhanded.

FRENCH-BRED HORSE WINS SWEEPSTAKES

NEWMARKET, Eng. (AP)—Convent, French-bred 3-year-old owned by Princess de Faucigny-Lucinge, today won the hundredth running of the classic Cesarewitch at two miles and a quarter, the race on whose running depended the distribution of approximately $7,000,000 of Irish hospital sweepstakes prizes.

J. P. Hornung's Dubonnet was second and E. Benson's Fet third. William Woodward's Olympus, only American-owned entry in the field of 28 starters, failed to place.

Convent started as a 100-7 shot, with Dubonnet also quoted at 100 to 7 and Fet at 9 to 1. The French horse finished a length and a half in front of Dubonnet, with Fet in third place by the same margin.

It was the second victory this season of a French entry in an English turf classic, for Bois Roussel captured the Epsom derby.

Convent, carrying only 92 pounds, less than any of the other 27 starters, was well behind C. Elsey's Ranfield, Sir W. Burroughes's Solonaise and Sir Abe Bailey's Fairing going into the last mile. But there he was pulled wide and took the lead going into the final half-mile.

It was Dubonnet e/f and Convent in that order going past the two-mile mark. There Fet weakened and Convent got his head out front 400 yards from home.

The result was the fifth major triumph for foreign horses on English turf this season. America won the grand national with Battleship and the Ascot gold cup with Flares, while France won the derby with Bois Roussel and the Cambridgehire with Hellenique.

The winner's time was 3 minutes 55.2 seconds.

morning's edition of the student paper in which he raked the football team for alleged failure to "rest" the Colgate team which defeated them Saturday.

Monday night Sullivan and John Mooney, Iowan editor, went to watch the squad practice and were ejected bodily from the field.

DON BORDEN OF DONS OUT WITH INJURY

An injured ankle, suffered in a workout at the Municipal bowl yesterday, in all probability will keep Quarterback Don Borden out of Santa Ana Jaycee's lineup against San Bernardino here Friday night.

Borden, the Oceanside boy who tosses long passes and runs well, will be missed by Coaches Bill Cook and John Ward, who experimented yesterday by transferring Carroll Joy, reserve end, to the backfield.

The Dons are all steamed up for their Eastern conference "natural" with San Bernardino at the Sixth and Flower street stadium Friday night, when approximately 10,000 fans are expected to see the big game.

Larry Monroy, the former Tustin star, has been going like a house afire at quarterback in scrimmage, and probably will start against San Bernardino. Halfback "Chuck" Stafford has returned to the lineup, and will greatly aid the Dons.

It was feared that Lynn Arnett's weak ankles might keep him out of action, but barring further injuries, the former Anaheim prep will be able to play at least part-time against San Bernardino, Cook said. Art Heinrich and Co-Capt. Larry Timken, fullbacks, will be ready.

UNBEATEN FULLERTON PREPARES FOR CITRUS

FULLERTON.—Fullerton's Junior college's strong grid squad, resting at the top of the Eastern conference with San Bernardino and Chaffey, takes on the tricky Fullerton Owls Friday night in the Fullerton stadium. Trounced by the leading team in the conference, the Owls will be out for a bit of revenge and a chance to get in the win column.

Five straight victories have been chalked up by Coach Wendell Jenkins' Hornet gridders. Last Saturday night the Fullerton reserves trimmed the La Verne varsity by a 6 to 0 score. The first string entered the game for only a few minutes.

Although the Hornets are favored to take the measure of the citrus team, Coach Al Claves always has some tricks ready for his Owls to spring. The unorthodox is often the rule out citrus way.

Coach Pickens will probably start his regulars, not giving the opponents a chance to catch the Hornets asleep and roll up a score at the start, as Pomona did a few weeks back.

SPORTS Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ

By DREW MIDDLETON (Pinch Hitting for Bretz)

NEW YORK. (AP)—Well, slap my saddle. . . . You can actually buy Army-Notre Dame tickets right out in public this year. . . .

Army is putting a big batch, nearly 100, on sale today and you can snap them up at a paltry $4.40 a throw. . . . In other years the game always was sold out a month or so beforehand. . . . There also are some real throwaways, box seats at $6.60, available. . . .

With one of them you can go down and rub shoulders with generals, politicians and such. . . . The subway alumni are just as worked up as ever about the game. . . . Over on the campus (Times Square) they're practicing songs and yells. . . . Wait till the guys that buy those 100 seats start to yell. . . . The seats are down near the end zone.

Tony Lazzeri has the itching foot again. . . . Last time he felt like this the Yankees released him and he landed with the Cubs. . . . Now the gossips say he's headed for the Browns. . . . Where he'll be pretty valuable. . . . He knows the league better than Will Harridge. . . . Ace Parker, the Brooklyn footballer, is right worried over the Duke Blue Devils' attack. . . . "They got a line all right," says the ace—who has shaved that moustache—"but you can't win many games if you don't score." . . . Turk Edwards, 260-pound tackle of the Washington Redskins, admits his full name is Albert Glen Edwards but says no one has called him that since he was a sophomore at Washington State. . . . Turk says Bronko Nagurski was the hardest running back he ever met—"much like a locomotive"—and Pug Renteria the shiftiest. . . . "Pug," says Turk, "had 10 styles of running, all confusing."

Henry Armstrong isn't worried about the "hold" punch Cefarino Garcia throws. . . . "How's he gonna hit me with it?" asked Henry. "When I'll be inside working on him." . . . Gossip on Cauliflower Row gives Henry another year on top at the most; the boys think his terrific pace will overtake him then. . . . "He'll go back as fast as he came up," said one. . . . A Pacific coast correspondent writes in to say Kenny Washington of U. C. L. A. is just about the best

MANY CHANGES IMPROVE NEW DODGE 'LINERS'

Marked by brilliant, new, streamlined beauty, exceptional luxuries and mechanical innovations, the new 1939 Dodge Silver Anniversary model has been christened "Dodge Luxury Liner," according to L. D. Coffing, local Dodge and Plymouth dealer.

In a first view of the new car, only the nameplate and the familiar Rocky Mountain Ram which for years has served as Dodge radiator ornament, suggest the car's identity. Everything else is new and different—body contours, hood lines, front grilles, fenders, lamps, windshield, front wheel springing, running boards—even the tire pattern differs from that used on preceding Dodge models.

NEW MODEL LARGER

The new Dodge is longer in wheelbase and wider in body, which contributes not only to impressive appearance but results in wider seats, increased roominess and greater visibility. Bodies are finished in a newly perfected enamel in a wide variety of optional colors.

The graceful rear sweep of the all-steel bodies completely conceals a 27 per cent larger luggage compartment. The driving compartment is clear of gear shift and parking brake levers.

The hood expression expresses new beauty as well as aerodynamic advantages which have practical values in substantially reduced wind resistance and, ultimately, it is pointed out, in fuel economy gains.

SUSPENSION CHANGED

In designing the chassis, engineers provided a new frame with 6-inch side members. The greatest change is noted in the heavier front end of the new frame, which now accommodates an individual-action front-wheel suspension incorporating tempered coil springs of Amola, sensational new steel also used extensively in the manufacture of Dodge wheel shafts, transmission and drive gears, and many other vital parts. Each wheel is free to move up or down in conformity with the road surface, independent of the opposite wheel. In section, the closest approach to ideal weight distribution, the front and rear seats are located in the cradled area between front and rear wheels. The steering is said to be 28 per cent easier, due to mechanical features and to a change in steering ratio.

The rear suspension employs semi-elliptic, squeakless springs of Amola steel. The spring suspension is augmented by four airplane type, double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers.

The road wheels are of new thicker steel section, hub caps are of new design. The tires have specially ribbed side walls and widened treads, with 7 grooves in front and non-skid pattern in the rear.

HALT THIS PLUNGE INTO Squandermania!

Proposition No. 13 on your November ballot is a brazen attempt to let down the bars to wholesale public borrowings which would mean . . .

Staggering Debt and New Tax Burdens

This dangerous proposal would abolish the basic safeguard requiring a two-thirds vote for bond issues!

It makes it easier to get into debt, but harder to get out!

It would permit the issuance of revenue bonds, IN ANY AMOUNT, by a bare majority of those actually going to the polls. In reality, it would mean that any district, city or county could be plunged into debt by A SMALL MINORITY, as only a fraction of the registered vote usually turns out for a bond election.

You can't afford it. Your neighbors can't afford it. No city or district in California can afford it!

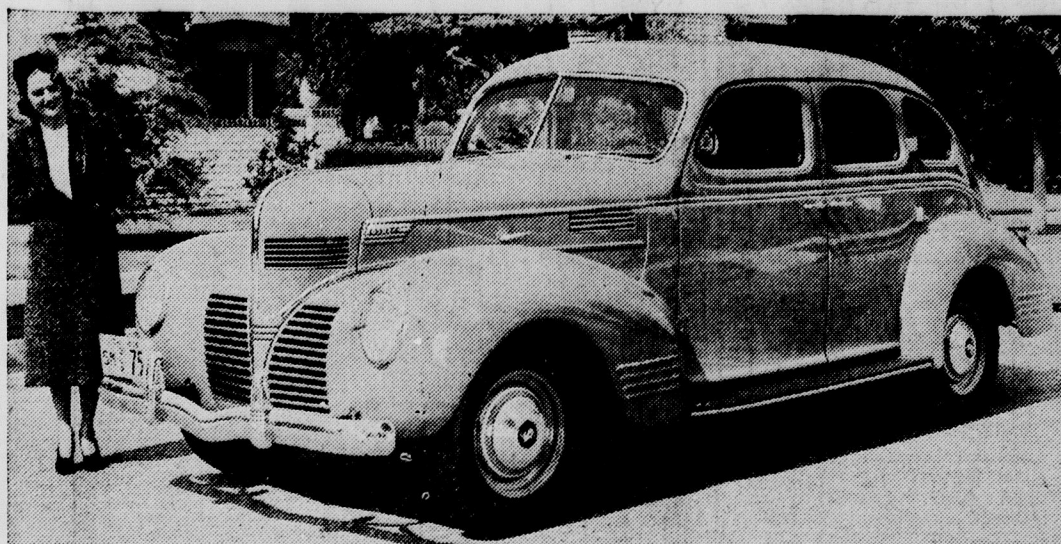

Vote "No!" on No. 13

Here's Dodge Luxury Liner for 1939

L. D. Coffing Company, Santa Ana Dodge dealer, is displaying the 1939 "luxury liners for 1939" in his East Fourth street showrooms. Wide, deep seats, improved visibility, a novel gear shift, individual-action front wheel springing and a variety of important safety features are among improvements that distinguish the new cars.

Nation Prepared to Launch Its Greatest Experiment in Public Health Improvement

KANSAS CITY, (P)—Representatives of federal, state and local governments told the American Public Health association today that the nation is about to begin the largest experiment in health improvement in history.

In a symposium conducted as part of the association's annual meeting here the group of speakers outlined a program including research and treatment of every disease from the common cold to cancer and the use of tax funds where necessary to correct the ailments of persons too poor to afford medical care, or the borderline income cases who regard it as too much of an expense.

Dr. Abel Wolman, new president of the association, declared that the purpose of the new health plan is to bring medical care not only to the very poorest portion of the population but also to "that great mass of people who are too inherently honest to call a doctor because they know they cannot pay him."

Dr. Thomas Parran, surgeon

general of the U. S. Public Health service, declared that the health drive now in prospect, which will be a permanent undertaking, is "the first large scale effort to shorten the lag between what medical and public health workers know and what we actually do" in the treatment of disease.

"If we applied today the medical knowledge already available, not to mention the discoveries which are constantly pouring out of the research laboratories, it would be possible to add 10 years to the average life span of our citizens," Dr. Parran added.

Federal funds which have been spent through the Social Security act, the WPA, PWA, Civilian Conservation Corps, and other agencies already have stimulated state and local governments to appropriate money for improvement of water supplies, better drainage, sanitation projects, and sewage treatment, he declared, and further "educational funds" are expected to further stimulate the cause of public health.

Way Cleared for CIO Men's Trial

LOS ANGELES, (P)—Superior Judge Arthur Crum was declared free of prejudice in labor cases today and the way cleared for trial of 12 CIO unionists on charges of violence in the American Can company strike.

The Los Angeles jurist's qualifications were questioned by defense attorneys, but upheld in a ruling by Superior Judge Arthur Coates of Sutter county.

Another Laundry Payroll Is Stolen

LOS ANGELES, (P)—A man who robbed L. B. Cole, bank messenger for a laundry firm, of a $2665 payroll, was sought by police today. The robber escaped after a two-block chase by Cole and other employees of the laundry.

The robbery was the second of a laundry payroll in a week. Last Thursday, a gang kidnaped and robbed officials of a Hollywood laundry, escaping with $2800.

Riley Has Job of Marketing Junk

Supervisor Harry Riley of Anaheim became the county's official junk man today.

Riley got the job of disposing of five tons of scrap iron, now reposing in the county's Fullerton yard. Bids were on hand proposing prices of $20 and $25 a ton, respectively. Riley will scout around and try for a better price, selling the iron for $25 a ton if no better offer is forthcoming.

Insurance Covers New County Boat

The county harbor district's new $8500 patrol boat is scheduled to take care of rescues, fires and marine accidents. But if anything happens to the rescue boat, the insurance company will have to take care of it.

County supervisors yesterday authorized insurance for the new boat, put into operation last week, in the amount of $5000.

U. S. Accused of Breaking Its Own Wage-Hour Law

NEW YORK, (P)—The United Federal Workers union (CIO) complained in a statement today the federal government violated the wage and hour act in the case of "more than 1000" messboys aboard army transports.

The union said the messboys, mainly Filipinos, although paid 40 cents an hour, had to work 12-hour shifts seven days a week at sea and immediately were laid off when their ships reached port.

Ruth Heyman, union secretary here, said these men, many of them more than 30 years old, were the lowest paid federal employees, averaging about $600 a year.

Veteran of Stage Dies in New York

NEW YORK, (P)—Frank Hatch, 74, actor and former stage director for William A. Brady, veteran Broadway producer, died at his home yesterday of pneumonia.

Hatch, who was born in Marysville, Calif., organized a traveling Stock company on the west coast before coming to New York many years ago.

Young Urschel to Wed Glendale Girl

PALO ALTO, (P)—Following a campus romance, the engagement of Mary Elizabeth Hails, of Glendale, and Charles R. Urschel, jr., son of an Oklahoma oil man who was kidnapped by Harvey Bailey in 1933, was announced today.

SMASH the . . . "SINGLE TAX"

If a man steals your purse, at the point of a gun,

IT'S ROBBERY!

But if tax cranks and social revolutionists rob you of your home, your farm, your job and your savings,

IT'S YOUR OWN RESPONSIBILITY

Your DEFENSE is in your own hands—in your intelligent use of the ballot.

The discredited, six-times-defeated "Single Tax" will appear as Proposition No. 20 on your November ballot.

This ruinous proposal would:

Confiscate Homes and Farms by piling Extortionate Taxes on Land—Higher than Taxpayers could pay.

It would wreck trades and industries, skyrocket rents, drain the state treasury of the funds necessary to pay old age pensions, to maintain the public schools and other essential functions of government.

It would bring chaos, distress and disaster to California.

And Remember: You Can't Vote Sales Tax Out, Without Voting "Single Tax" in. The bait of "sales tax repeal" is a deliberate attempt to snare the unwary voter.

Vote "No!" on No. 20!

Save California from Disaster!

BUICK TRIMS 1939 PRICES, GORDON SAYS

FLINT, Mich.—Substantial price reductions on Buick cars for 1939, ranging from $51 to $102 on the standard sedan and coupe models, were announced today by W. R. "Stormy" Gordon, Santa Ana Buick dealer. As a result, the Buick price structure for next year has been brought to approximately the 1938 levels.

The reductions have been made on all of the fast moving and most popular models. Mr. Gordon said, namely, the Buick Series 40 Special five-passenger two and four-door sedans and coupes, the Series 60 Century five-passenger two and four-door sedans and coupes, the Series 90 Roadmaster six-passenger four-door sedan and the Series 90 Limited six-passenger four-door sedan.

In the lower price range Series 40 and Series 60 cars the reductions are $51 on standard sedans and coupe models and in the higher range Series 80 and 90 cars the reductions are $102 on the six-passenger standard sedans.

"Buick's very satisfactory volume with the expected increase in output during 1939 enables us to pass on the benefits of manufacturing economies to the public in the price of the new cars," the dealer said. "The price reductions not only represent a substantial saving to the 1939 car buyer, but the cars themselves represent a decided step-up in value."

It was pointed out that the new low prices include such accessories as safety direction signal, extra front center bumper guard, extra lights in all trunk compartments, automatic cigar lighter, and other accessories which either were not on the cars last year or were optional at added cost.

MIDWAY CITY SEWAGE PLAN REPORT MADE

An engineer's preliminary report on one proposed special district was received yesterday afternoon by county supervisors, and a similar report on another district was authorized.

George L. Bates reported that property in the proposed Midway City Sanitary district had an assessed valuation of $2,470, including land and improvements, and an actual value of $544,940. The district, if formed, would vote on a bond issue for a sewage disposal plant. Public hearing on formation of the district is scheduled for Nov. 9.

William Poe was authorized to make a similar report on the proposed Los Alamitos Lighting district, residents of which have petitioned for its formation. Poe will report later, after which a public hearing will be held.

Lawyer's Question Dismisses Panel

LOS ANGELES, (P)—Because a lawyer identified himself before prospective jurors as indirectly connected with the recent recall of Mayor Frank Shaw, a new panel was summoned today in a $200,000 support suit.

"Would it prejudice you against my client because I was, and am, attorney for Clifford E. Clinton and the C. I. V. I. C.?" asked the lawyer, A. Brigham Rose.

Clinton is head of the Citizens' Independent Vice Investigation committee, which sponsored the recall.

Leonard Wilson, attorney for the defendant, Mrs. Lily Baldwin Howard, former wife of the late E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin, charged the question was "misconduct."

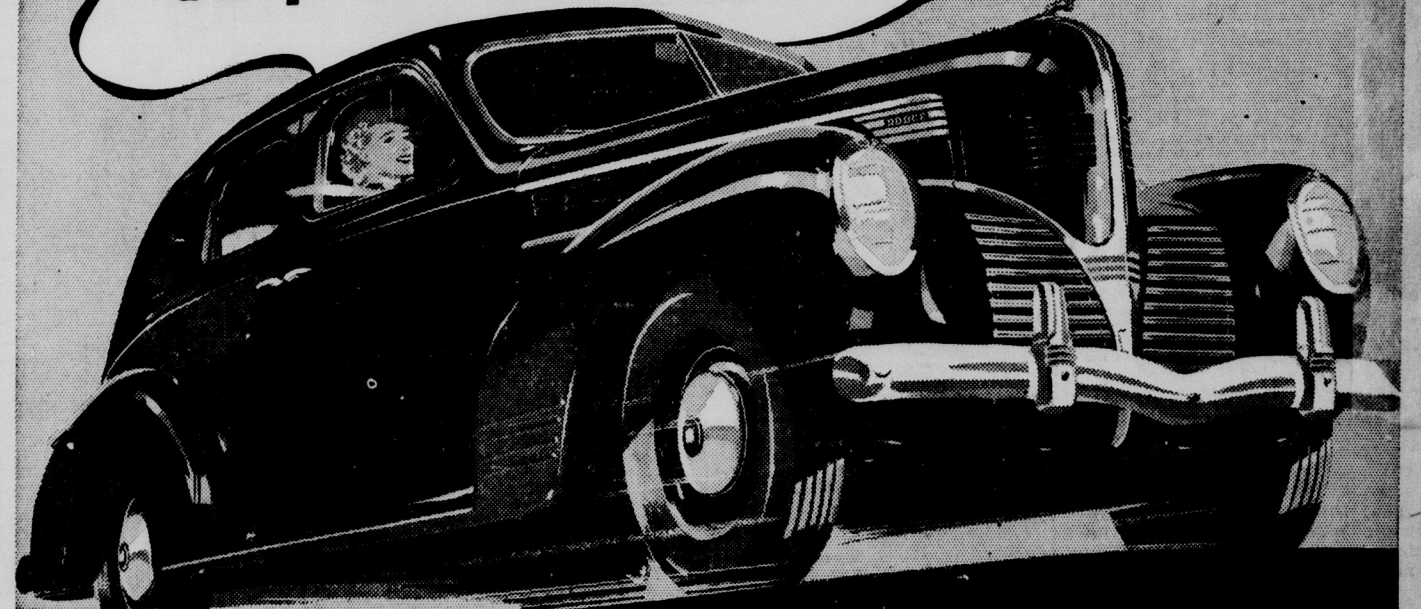

Superior Judge Clement L. Shinn ordered a mistrial and dismissed the panel.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

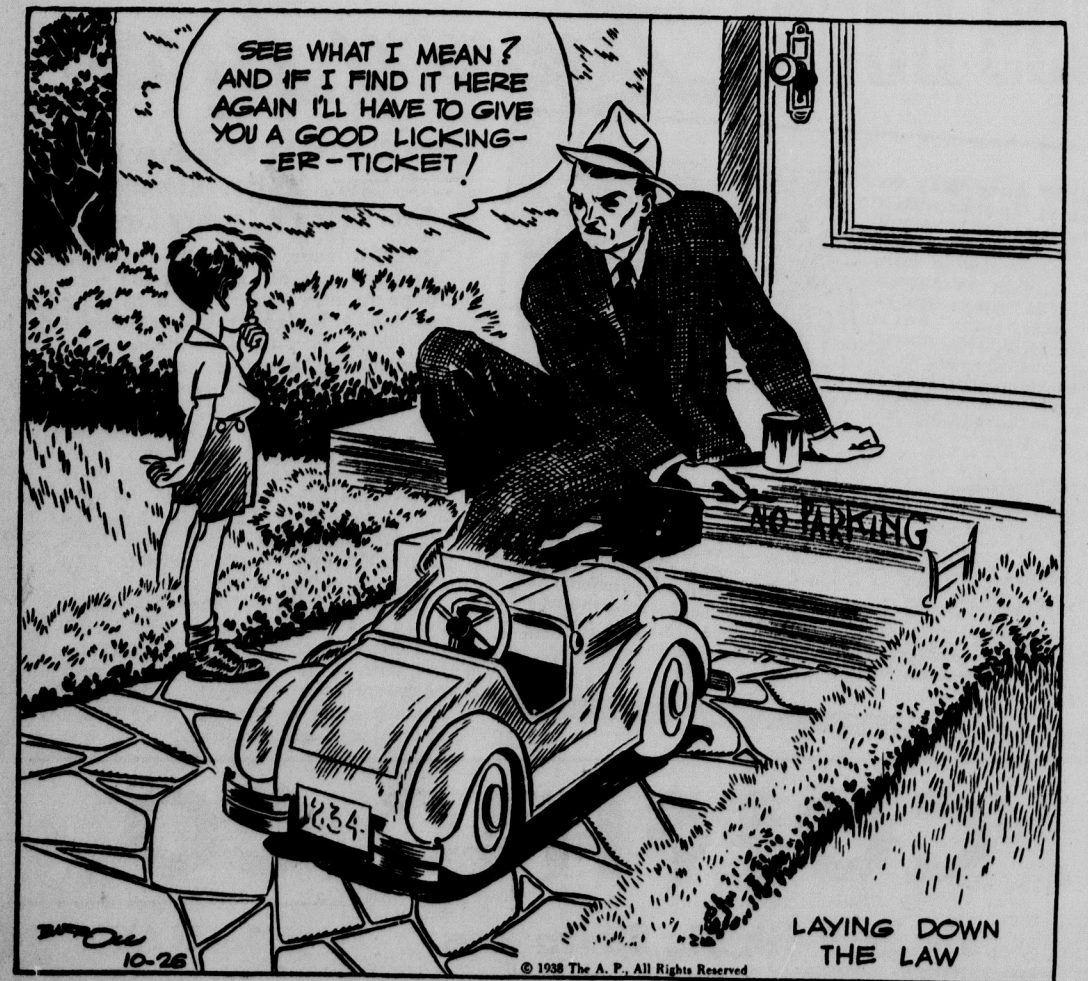

By JOHN HIX

TELESCOPE MONUMENT . . . Strange as it seems, although built to commemorate the disastrous Great Fire of London in 1666, the famous London Monument actually was designed as a telescope by Sir Christopher Wren, noted architect. Christian Huygens, the famous Dutch scientist, had presented the English Royal Academy, of which Wren was president, with a large object glass for astronomical use. Wren then conceived of the idea of building a great hollow tube to be used with the glass as a telescope of the Great Fire. Built between the years 1871 and 1878, the shaft is 202 feet high. Wind so as to render it impracticable. Wren then built a staircase inside and made of it a show-place where visitors could view the new London rising from the ashes of the Great Fire.

What's Next in China?

Within the last few days Japanese invaders have captured two great Chinese cities, and the chart makers pencil in great stretches of territory, adding to the many provinces already held by the Nipponese.

That's not surprising news, however. The world expected it.

But Associated Press dispatches from Tokyo yesterday brought news that may forecast the real surprise. After these great victories, the Japanese people showed no inclination to celebrate. The government passed out word that a lantern parade should be held, but the idea did not meet with ready response. Newspaper extras did not sell. There was not the slightest indication of enthusiasm on the part of the people. They had been assured that the Chinese adventure would be quickly accomplished and that it would immediately add greatly to the nation's wealth and power. Instead, they are constantly called upon to make new sacrifices, with the hope of ultimate victory pushed still further into the future.

True, Japan holds a large piece of China; that is, holds many cities and the railroads. But the Chinese people themselves within the conquered territory are evidently bitterly hostile—still unconquered.

The Chinese army, still intact, still determined to fight and still supplied with materials and the friendship of the world, goes further inland, leading the invaders further from the base of supplies. When the Chinese dig in ahead they will probably be so far upstream that Japanese gunboats and transports cannot aid the army. In the meantime, Japan's financial and economic condition on her own islands becomes more severe; the morale of her people sinks still lower.

Japan may win the war—and lose her empire.

The Kent (Conn.) Association for Detection of Horse Thieves has disbanded. The association couldn't find any more horse thieves. It couldn't even find any more horses.

Hongkong society note: Some new neighbors have moved in next to the residence of Mr. John Bull, and the foreign colony is all agog over the event.

Mother-in-Law Comes Through

Back in Chicago the "perfect husband" has been acquitted after he shot the man who stole his wife. He won his freedom largely on the testimony of his mother-in-law, who took his side as against the erring wife.

"It was my daughter's fault," my son-in-law was justified," said the mother-in-law.

Let's hope this example explodes, once and for all, the old mother-in-law gag.

In the great majority of cases, any son-in-law who is at all decent has a real friend in his mother-in-law. To her, he's a son—and you know how mothers favor their sons!

Indeed, when Friend Wife turns on what is inelegantly but accurately referred to as "the heat"—it's mother-in-law who steps in, defends the son-in-law, and smoothes everything out.

The only situation in which real mother-in-law trouble may develop is when the husband's mother starts telling his wife how to run HER home. Then look out for fireworks!

We have a suspicion that the man who started the first mother-in-law joke must have been pretty much of a heel himself.

Senator Wheeler told the Rail Fact Finding Board that a cut in railway wages is not needed. Tell that to the $100,000 a year railway president.

You have plenty of company when you are in a rut.

The Wagner Act

One of the most interesting recent news developments is the growing disapproval of the Wagner labor relations act in the ranks of organized labor itself.

It has become evident that the law, instead of reducing labor strike, has actually compounded it in many cases. At first much criticism was directed at the labor relations board. That criticism evidently was well deserved, but much of the fault seems to exist in the act itself.

The law puts the employer in the position of a culprit-defendant haled before a tribunal that is prosecutor, jury and judge.

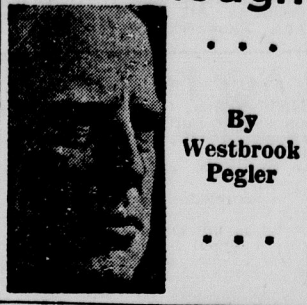

It stacks the cards in favor of the type of labor organizer whose primary aim is power rather than the kind of collective bargaining that keeps men earning fair wages to the advantage of themselves, their families and industry as a whole.

A public that has watched the trial and noted the costly errors has reluctantly reached the conclusion that the Wagner act itself must be regarded as one of the two or three most potent forces in promoting and prolonging labor chaos.

Fair Enough

NEW YORK. — The simplest cure for the fears of those who think a great program of armament for this country would develop an aristocratic and warlike officer caste is to eliminate the word "gentlemen" from the 95th article of war. This article was lifted bodily from the British articles 150 years ago. The British had adopted it long before that, when the word "gentlemen" had a little meaning which has been lost by now.

There are no more democratic institutions in this country than the military and naval institutions within themselves. But, despite their internal democracy, under which the son of a four-star general enjoys no advantage over the son of a man with lime on his hod carrier's boots, the course does contrive to instill in the young gentlemen, as they are called, a strong sense of the social untouchability of the man in the ranks and the social untouchability of the enlisted man's wife in relation to the officer's wife.

The theory holds that an officer is a gentleman and that an enlisted man is of a lower social order. They may not often examine the meaning and effect of all this, but it is apparent throughout the life of the service. In service emergencies officers and men become human beings with no human distinction, and the lawful authority of the officer commands obedience not because he wears finer feathers but because he is authorized to command.

But, in other times, the officer has his pick of the pubs, and the enlisted man, even though socially and intellectually compatible and perhaps desirable, are excluded from the officers' set and from places which they frequent. As a result they often are reduced to association with the riffraff of the post town. Civilian snobs cultivate the society of the commissioned personnel to the exclusion of the enlisted men and their wives, if any, and jokes which cropped up in England and here in the great war about the problem of reconciling contrasts illustrate the artificiality of this segregation. The comic idea of a millionaire having to salute a man who recently had been his own valet and of their mutual embarrassment was comic only because the tradition behind it was silly.

The tradition endowed the officer with an indefinable social superiority which he and the public knew he did not necessarily possess or feel. The public, however, instinctively felt that somehow an officer ought to be superior.

The French are much more democratic. Their officers, their authority, but a general entering a room will click his heels and salute all present in a gesture of politeness, nothing more, and a buck private is not expected even to look up. American and British officers—in the higher ranks at least—feel that they lose something of dignity and authority (perhaps that it is ungentlemanly) to frequent the haunts of enlisted men. It might be so in the event that the false distinction emanating from the word "gentlemen" has driven the enlisted men—or "the people," as they used to be called in the navy—to questionable places.

DIVERSION MEANS HIGH TAXES

Every state which diverts gasoline tax receipts away from the proper channel of street and highway work to the support of other governmental functions could reduce the tax if it eliminated the diversion.

Conversely, virtually every state which has diverted these funds sooner or later has increased the rate of the levy.

Statistics show, for example, that New York collects three cents per gallon but could reduce this to two cents by halting diversion; Massachusetts could cut its three-cent rate to 1.28 cents; South Dakota four cents to 1.81; Oklahoma four cents to 2.28; Louisiana seven cents to 4.01.

These facts constitute a sound argument for California, California more than any other state is dependent upon inexpensive transportation on the highways. Farmers must truck their products to market, laborers often must drive long distances from home to work, and lastly California looks to her tourist trade for a large share in the total receipts of business and industry.

It goes without saying that tourists would be driven away by burdensome gasoline taxes, that laboring men would suffer and that farmers would be faced with another severe handicap. Since gasoline tax diversion means a higher tax rate, this news paper favors a "yes" vote on Proposition No. 3, the anti-diversion constitutional amendment, at the November 8 election.

This will end the long menace of gasoline tax diversion by taking the matter away from legislative control.—Watsonville Register-Pajaronian.

Science News

(Copyright, 1938, by Science Service)

PRINCETON, N. J.—(Special)—Cancer from a woman's breast grafted successfully onto eyes of rabbits has opened new research vistas in the anti-cancer fight that make Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research scientists say frankly they have a new technique of "unlimited possibilities."

This may be the step toward solving the problem of cancer's cause, growth and immunity. Dr. Harry S. N. Greene of the Rockefeller Institute laboratories here is announcing to the scientific world through the journal, Science, his success in transplantation of human cancer to animals.

"We hope to learn something about the specific nature of the protein involved in cancer," Dr. Greene said enthusiastically when interviewed. "We want to know whether after the transfer the protein continues to be human or whether it takes on rabbit characteristics."

"If we can immunize a rabbit against human normal tissue and the transplanted cancer continues to grow, we will have taken a long step toward the understanding of cancer."

Dr. Greene made it clear that the present research is aimed at the cause and not directly at the cure of this dread disease. Several other investigators in the past have claimed to have performed transplants from humans to animals but their work has not been widely accepted. In Dr. Greene's experiments, the human grafts took in seven out of 12 rabbits. The human cancers have grown in the rabbits slowly but progressively for more than 12 days. Some of the cancers have multiplied themselves until they are five times original size.

JUDGE STUMP

Dear Judge: Did you ever know a detective who really "scoured the city?"

Nope. But I've wondered if maybe the crooks do that. I've read about crooks having "a brush with the law," and I've always figured it must be a scrub brush because every once in a while some crook "comes clean." STUMP.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON. — When that shaggy-maned bell-ringer of the senate, William Edgar Borah, comes out for revision of the neutrality act, you can get a pretty good idea what congress will do about it next session. Here is Borah's very positive comment:

"In the present state of the world, the cash and carry provisions, if continued, mean that Great Britain, Japan and Germany would be the chief beneficiaries of our neutrality act. I am emphatically opposed to that."

If the policy of surrender established by Great Britain at Munich continues, the cash and carry provisions would favor no one but the militarist states."

Administration strategists are working on plans for neutrality revision, would like either to junk the entire act or else give the executive more discretion. Probably it will be the former.

BRUCE BARTON

According to Royce Powell: "Bruce Barton may not be presidential timber, but he's certainly a splinter in the side of the democrats."

WAR TRAINING

It is not supposed to be known yet, but as a further answer to Hitler's armament, Harry Hopkins' WPA is about to tackle one of the most serious weaknesses of the national defense—lack of trained technicians and mechanics.

The plan results from a confidential report to the president by Assistant War Secretary Louis Johnson that the army was short 20,000 mechanics, and needed a system of training technicians annually as reserves.

He pointed out that "squads right" and "shoulder arms" was not as important to the modern soldier as being able to repair a truck and unjam a machine gun. As a result, WPA's national youth administration soon will begin the training of mechanics as army reserves. The NYA already conducts mechanical schools for unemployed youths, and these will be expanded and developed.

Graduates of these schools will have the chance of enlisting in the army as non-commissioned officers, or of entering private industry as army reserve mechanics.

GOPERS are not saying anything about it publicly, but under the solace of a highball they will tell you that they are puzzled and disheartened at the difficulty of raising money for the national republican war chest.

Lots of money is rolling into state and county campaigns, and getting the dough to meet the payroll at republican national headquarters in Washington is like passing the hat among apple salesmen. GOP strategists give three reasons for this lack of lucre:

1. The money donors are not sold on Chairman John Hamilton, and a little dubious about the ideas of brain trust chief Glenn Frank.

2. They complain that "the national committee has no other policy" other than "We are against Roosevelt!" They want some new policies as well as new leadership.

3. They would rather place their money in key states where they are sure it will do some good, rather than have it eaten up by the lush salaries of Chairman Hamilton and publicity director Franklin W. Wainman.

The last probably is the most important reason of all. Plenty of republican money is evident in state fights. And many a wealthy republican leader admits quite frankly he is out to back Taft in Ohio, or Tobey in New Hampshire. In fact, some of them will even disclose how they dipped deeply into their jeans to help Tydings in Maryland and George in Georgia.

In other words, if they see a chance of taking a good sock at the New Deal in a state campaign, the GOP moneyed boys will contribute and contribute heavily.

The excuses they give to avoid contributing to the national committee are amazing, if not ingenious. One big eastern industrialist, declining an invitation to give as little as $1,000, wrote:

"As you know, my daughter is a debutante and is coming out this month. Because of such large expenses, I must decline."

About The Bills

NO. 12, SAN FRANCISCO BAY EXPOSITION

This measure is a constitutional amendment proposed by the assembly, exempting from taxation the San Francisco Bay Exposition property and its exhibits.

San Francisco members of the assembly urge its adoption as necessary for proper functioning of the exposition, pointing out a similar exemption was given the 1915 fair. Both, they say, should be exempted on the basis they are non-profit organizations for the benefit of all the people of California.

Opponents are against it on grounds it is another tax exemption, allowing exemption on property of the exposition, no matter where in the state it is located, and making it possible for a person to transfer valuable property to the exposition for tax-dodging purposes. They claim the exposition makes profits available to interested persons in the form of high salaries, and is a private corporation. The $5,000,000 state appropriation, together with federal appropriations and police and fire protection, they say, should be an adequate contribution for the people to make.

TIBBET'S RUSSIAN

Lawrence Tibbett tells the following story in the American Magazine:

In Hollywood, one evening, I was asked to sing. I stood up and improvised for five minutes, singing in an imitation of Russian, of which language I know not even one word. I sobbed, I laughed, I wailed my arms, making up music and words as I went along. Finally I stopped, exhausted by my emotions.

They cheered and applauded like mad.

An exotic movie actress, reputed to have been a member of the Russian nobility, grasped both my hands.

"It is tremendous," she cried. "My favorite aria."

I nodded. "My Russian pronunciation isn't very good, though," I said.

"You are too modest," she insisted. "I understood every word."

I let it go at that.—Think.

The Mailbag

public opinion, or what somebody in office imagines to be public opinion, is our ruler. If public opinion is active, the politicians and people all up and take notice. There is a definite need for outspoken talking and thinking on public matters. Honest, intelligent fair discussion of our problems is immensely useful. So that every citizen may have his say and contribute to the formation of public opinion, The Journal invites letters to The Mailbag. Please limit communications to 500 words. The editor reserves the right to shorten all letters in excess of that length.

DISTINGUISHED

To the Editor: Here they come, the heroes of distinguished service. Let the common police push the proletariat back to the curb stones. Make way, Hell, ye masses!

How statuesque the police escort upon their well-curried steeds! How sharply voiced the thumping drum corps! How the brightly uniformed band makes the windows of the building rattle with its belching of that great parade march, "Gott Mit Uns!" See the storm of welcoming confetti showering from sidewalks and tops of buildings. Observe the splendid harmonious tramp of our admirable army officers reserve corps. Left foot, right foot by the thousand in exact time.

Don't crowd. Room, room for the distinguished service friends of the invincible Hitler, who swing the British lion around by its tail and makes the French rooster swallow its crow. Room, and hell your cussedest, ye common patriots!

"Tis Der Tag. They come. Heil! Heil! They come."

Our Colonel Lindbergh and Billonaire Henry Ford, the only two Americans to wear all of mighty Hitler's choicest star-crosses, German eagles and other unmatchable decorations—save the swastika.

Heil 'em, fellow citizens. Heil! Heil! Heil. R. F. PAINE.

What Other Editors Say

WHAT PROPAGANDA CAN DO

Resolutions by women's clubs and by all manner of civic bodies against the proposed California Bonds Act are enlightening indication of what well-financed propaganda can accomplish.

Here is a measure that got the almost unanimous approval of the Legislature and then received the signature of the conservative Governor Merriam.

Yet when the power companies hold it up by referendum and organize their campaign, thousands of our best citizens are put on record against it through their representative bodies. And the judgment of the Legislature and the governor is to that extent swept aside.

If the Garrison Act were a straight-out public ownership measure the case would be different. Instead, it is an essential aid to the great Central Valleys Project and was enacted in recognition of California's obligation to facilitate the sales of water and power from which its cost will be repaid.

The Garrison Act authorizes no bond issues and commits no county, city or district to anything. It merely permits any of these political units to create a utility district and to finance the distribution of water or power by issuing revenue bonds.

Revenue bonds are what every private utility corporation issues when it wants money for new plant and extensions. They are secured only by the earnings of the particular project for which the money is spent, and cannot be a lien on taxable property. They are the best safeguard against extravagance because hard-headed bond-buyers will not purchase them unless the project is sound, whereas no bond-buyer need worry for a moment over the soundness of a project financed by general obligation bonds. He gets his interest and principal in any event.

The attempt to deny towns and cities the right to issue revenue bonds is an attempt to discourage public ownership by making it more difficult. General obligation bonds require a two-thirds vote, revenue bonds only a majority. It is an attempt to limit the market for Central Valleys power to the corporations that already enjoy a monopoly and naturally wish to keep it. They can keep that monopoly, revenue bonds or no, by demonstrating that they can give better service at an equal or lower price. They should not be permitted to keep it by defeating the Garrison Act.

If you went into a big office looking for a hen-pecked man, your first choice would be the little dried up, meek looking bookkeeper. You'd never think of pickin' the big boss of the organization.

I happen to know one of them big bosses who's a tyrant in his office. Everybody shudders when he speaks and he has it thoroughly understood that his word is final.

I happened to be in his office one time when his wife dropped in. He sat at his desk, pale and silent, while she raked him over the coals and laid the law down to him and after she'd gone, I said, "Well, you didn't have the final word in that argument!" He said, "Oh, yes I did—didn't you hear me say, 'Yes, my dear?'"

CARNEGIE'S

Day-By-Day Philosophy

Would you like to hear about a nine-year-old boy with a liability that might have helped to develop an inferiority complex?

The story is about the son of Lee Shippey, Los Angeles columnist and author of "The Great American Family," a book which has received high praise and been translated into Braille both in America and in England.

Homer Croy's little daughter had a party in Hollywood. John Shippey was invited. It was his first big party and he had looked forward to it for days.

Lee plotted the boy to the party, but he did not discover until he was about to deliver him at the door that the lad was wearing his old shoes, and that one of them had a sole that was flapping open and shut like the mouth of a fish out of water.

Lee suggested going home, but John insisted that it didn't matter. So Lee gave in, though when he left the lad among the group of carefully dressed children, he felt sorry for him. He would probably be taunted in the cruel ways that innocent little children practise.

Sure enough, when Lee returned, the boy was surrounded by a group of little boys and girls emitting peals of laughter. Lee blamed himself for letting the boy stay.

But, to Lee's astonishment, the children were not laughing AT John, but WITH him. John was the lion of the hour, the hit of the show, the most popular child there. He had kept his shoe out of sight for some time. Then he was called to the middle of the floor in a game. He hesitated; he was called again. Reluctantly dragging his disgraced foot out from under him, he hopped into the limelight.

Laughs went up; a smart-alecky little boy made a derisive remark. It was then that John rose to the occasion and established a precedent for himself that I hope he follows all his life. He turned ridicule into applause. He looked at the laughing shoe proudly and flapped the sole. The children laughed. The smart-alecky boy uttered a taunt. John flapped the sole again. He flapped it backwards and forwards and sideways. He held his foot up as he flapped, and he held it down. He did tricks with it. He hopped along the floor, making that sole go plop-plop with a rhythmic sense of motion that could not but attract admiration.

The children were fascinated. John could do something that no other child at the party could! Soon two other little boys were discovered diligently trying to loosen the soles of their shoes.

When the time came for John to leave, the other children surrounded him. They followed him to the door and waved to him and called loud "goodbyes." John turned and waved and went plopping happily and contentedly down the street.

Can you handle a similar situation as cleverly as John did? It may stand you in good stead some day.
